Administrative Officer Chosen

COUNCIL NAMES ORRIN WENDLING TO CITY OFFICE

New Official Takes Position July 17

Orrin E. Wendling, Daly City's first Administrative officer, will begin work July 17, Mayor Paul Green announced today.

The former Daly City resident was chosen for the $400 a month job at a special meeting of the city council Thursday evening.

Dan Anderson, manager of the Serra Theatre, was also one of the finalists considered for the position last Thursday night.

Wendling, who is 28 years old, has been serving as assistant superintendent of public works for Mountain View.

The new administrator is a graduate of San Jose state college (class of 1947) where he specialized in public administration and municipal government. After graduation, he served as an assistant to the personnel director of San Jose, and assisted in establishing the personnal office as part of the city's administrativet organization.

After serving this temporary appointment, he went to Mountain View where he was concerned

Daly City Boys Club Re-opens This Monday, Public Is Invited To Attend Ceremonies

Police Force Adds Additional Officer July 16

With the adoption of the five day week for Daly City employes, another police officer will be added to the force July 16, Mayor Paul Green said today.

John Van Otten, 30, 247 Knowles, has received the appointment.

The police department is the only city department which will need additional help due to the five day week, the mayor said. At some later date another officer is to be chosen.

Van Otten is a veteran of World War II, and is presently employed as a teamster. He is the father of four children, and has been a resident of Daly City for the past four years.

It is expected all city employes will go on the five day week late this month, or early in August.

Dr. Mahan To Open Dental Office Here

Dr. Leo D. Mahan will reopen the former Dr. Grieb's dental office, 6315 Mission, Monday, July 10.

A resident of San Francisco, Dr. Mahan has had many years of experience in dental work. He is 38-years-old, and a graduate of Santa Clara University, St. Louis University and the Physicians and Surgeons College of San Francisco.

Before coming to Daly City, Dr. Mahan was associated for five years with Dr. Carfagni of 4651 Mission street.

Also, he is a navy veteran with four years of dental work in that branch of the service.

He is married, and has a three-year-old daughter.

TV Prompts Burglary; $219 Table Set Taken

TV can now be listed along with wine, women and song as one of the basic causes for crime.

Daly City police report that sometime over the four day Independence holiday a thief broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Castle, 219 Los Banos.

Inside the home, (police are still uncertain how he got in) the burglar went directly to a back bedroom. And did he take anything from the drawers; did he take the silverware; did he take cash? He did not.

Instead, the TV fan picked up the Castle's $219 table television set and made off with it through the open back door.

Police are wondering what kind of reception he will get with the set. Seems, he forgot to take the very necessary aerial.

HOW IT LOOKS FROM A CORNER

By BILL KATZ

Probably one of the hardest days in any man's life is when he first steps into a new job.

Orrin Wendling, 28 - year - old navy veteran, is going to be in that position July 17 when he takes over the job of Daly City's administrative officer.

We haven't met the young former Daly City man as yet, but from all reports he is a congenial chap well suited to what may well be the toughest job in this community.

It is our hope that the people of Daly City will do everything in their power to give him a sincere, heartfelt welcome on his first day, and to cooperate with him while he is a member of this city.

Good luck, Orrin.

We see by this week's "Collier's" magazine that our own PG&E has come up for a full study by authors Dean Jennings and John Noble. In addition to the yarn, there are two pages of full colored pictures, showing various operations of PG&E throughout the state. Don't miss this one . . . it is in the July 15 issue.

PAIR ROB COLMA THEATRE MAN OF $3,600

Theft Takes Place Near Drive-In

Police today were searching for two Negro gunmen who shortly before noon Monday robbed the assistant manager of the El Rancho Theatre, Colma of $3,648.

The two gunmen forced Ward's car to the side of the road at 11:27 a.m., within a few blocks of the outdoor movie, and at gun point robbed Ward of his money bag.

Before Ward opened the door, one of the bandits fired a warning shot near the car.

The last Ward saw of the bandit's car was as they made a U-turn and headed east on Junipero Serra boulevard.

Immediately after the hold up, a county road block was put into operation. A few minutes later two suspects were picked up, but they later proved their innocence, police said.

Daly City police, the sheriff's office and a fire warden's plane entered into the chase.

A cursory investigation of the crime by the district attorney's office leads them to believe that the robbery was well planned. The whole thing took less than one minute, officials said.

Ward, 23, gave the following description of the robbery:

"I was one my way to the West Portal branch of the American Trust company with the receipts for two nights, $3,648.

"About one-half mile from the theatre this other car drove up and scraped my fenders, forcing me over to the side of the road.

"One of the bandits yelled, "Pull over," and waved a revolver.

"I stopped. Without saying a word they took the money and fled."

Human Torch To Recover

Junipero Serra hospital authorities today report Norman Sontag, 30, 231 Abbott street, will recover from serious burns he received Saturday when he became a veritable torch.

A mechanic, Sontag was repairing his car in the garage of his home when gasoline fumes ignited. The flame swept to the gas tank and exploded. Flaming gas covered Sontag from his waist to his collar.

A fast thinking neighbor threw a blanket over Sontag, extinguishing flames.

Hospital authorities say his condition is "good" today, and he will recover.

DC Escapes Serious Accidents

Daly City escaped the Independance day holiday with a few minor automobile accidents, police reports show today.

Only one woman suffered minor injuries in a three car crash Sunday evening at the intersection of Junipero Serra and Parkview. Mrs. Mary Goodare told officers that she suffered a sprained left hand and wrist when the car she was

Eagles Picnic Set For July 16

Sunday, July 16, is the date this year for the annual Colma Vista Aerie No. 1848 FOE picnic, Tom Rae, club secretary, said today.

All Eagles, Auxiliary members and their friends are invited to take part in the big event.

This year's picnic is to be held at Skippers Park, Searsville Lake.

Complete details concerning the affair will be published in next week's Daly City Record.

Ball Point Salesman Cited By DC Police

Charged with failure to obtain a city business license today is Sylvain Zanger, 18, 36 Germainia, San Francisco.

Representing the Nasa Pen company, Zanger allegedly was selling ball point pens door to door last Saturday. His father is owner of the firm.

Zanger was found to be operating without a Daly City business license, police said. He was released on $10 bail, and will appear in police court Friday, July 7.

Firemen To Set Blaze; Clear Community Site

One of the largest fires in Daly City is soon to be set by Daly City firemen.

The blaze busters will reverse their usual procedure and set fire to the frame house and two small bungalows at 35 Alp street. The city decided it would be cheaper to burn down the buildings than have them removed.

Once the obstruction is destroyed, the Alp and Mission streets corner will be free for the construction of the new $295,000 Community Center building.

Exact date of the fire was not available at publishing time, although it is expected to be late this week or early next week. The land, and homes, were part of the Goodenough estate.

Brisbane Housewife Single Fatality

San Mateo county's only traffic fatality over the holidays was a Brisbane housewife, Mrs. Annette Bailey, 39, 3448 Bayshore highway.

She was instantly killed Sunday when she ran into the path of a car driven by Tobias J. Villarreal, 19-year-old San Francisco printer.

Mrs. Bailey was the county's twenty-sixth traffic victim this year. During the first six months of 1949 the traffic toll stood at 19.

Out Of The Blue Burglar Gets $118

A burglar literally dropped out of the sky last Friday or Saturday evening to rob the Merit Furniture company, 1899 Junipero Serra boulevard of $118 in cash and goods.

Police report the unidentified thief hoisted himself up on the roof of the establishment, cut the putty away from the skylight window, removed same, and dropped 12 feet into the store's display room.

Going to the office, he removed $85 from an office desk. He then turned to the storeroom where he took two small table radios.

Loot in hand, he pushed a table under the skylight, put a chair on the table, and hoisted himself back on the roof where he made his escape.

Only clue left by the burglar was a bloody $1 bill on the office desk. Evidently, he had cut himself on the snattered skylight window, police said.

Pole, Grass Fires Reported Over Week End

A grass and light pole fire took a few minutes of Daly City firemen's time over the weekend.

Neither of the fires did any "great amount" of damage, the fire department reports.

The first blaze was at 5:58 p.m. Saturday, when a small grass fire was reported off Templeton road. This was put out in a matter of minutes by three companies.

Then, at 9:25 p.m. on the same day, firemen put out a small blaze in the base of a light pole at 12 Risel street.

Railroad Files $375,000 Suit Against Doelger

The Ocean Shore Railroad company, which hasn't operated for some 25 years, this week filed suit against Henry Doelger, Westlake builder, for $375,000.

Filed in Redwood City superior court, the complaint claims that Doelger's building operations have trespassed upon the railroad's right-of-way.

Involved in the right-of-way is a 60 foot strip of land running from the San Francisco county line south west to the southern border of the Spring Valley Water company. This comprises some 10 acres.

In addition, the railroad claims it has possession and use of a 70 foot strip of land on either side of the right-of-way.

According to the railroad's complaint, for the past three years Doelger has been storing rock and gravel on the railroad property, and on May 1 brought in trucks, bulldozers and heavy equipment.

The railroad asserts a "considerable amount" of earth was moved, a fence destroyed, trees destroyed, and that culverts, embankments and fills, constructed at a cost of $250,000 have been damaged or destroyed. The complaint concludes that the damage is irreparable.

Also, the railroad charges that Doelger now threatens to construct a de luxe motel, and other buildings on their property.

Besides the damages the railroad also seeks an injunction to halt the asserted trespass by Doelger.

Contacted today, Doelger had no comment. He said he had to consult his lawyers.

The Ocean Shore Railroad company at one time operated a railroad from San Francisco to Mussel Rock. It has not been active for the past 25 years, although it is still a corporation owning considerable acreage along the coastside.

Bray Injured By Iron Bin

While moving a heavy iron bin Wednesday morning, Hollis Bray, 40, 220 Los Olivos slipped, and the bin fell on his back.

Rushed to Junipero Serra hospital, Bray today was being X-Rayed for possible back, or leg fractures. Hospital authorities report his condition as "good."

The accident occurred in the Ferretti Garage, 7323 Mission street, where Bray is employed as a mechanic. He and several other men were pushing the bin, 6 by 10 feet in size, when it fell on him.

CLUB RETURNS TO REGULAR SCHEDULE

Entertainment, Show Listed For July 10

They said it couldn't be done, but this Monday, July 10, the Daly City Boys Club, 2 Hillside boulevard, will reopen its doors.

To mark the occassion, a giant party and entertainment is planned both for the boys and their family.

Getting underway at 7:30 p.m. Monday, the party will feature the boys in various acts, highlighted by a boxing exhibition.

Refreshments also will be served.

The club, open to all boys from 8 to 16 years, is to operate five nights a week under the supervision of Frank Bria. It is Bria who did much to restore the old clubhouse, and spearheaded the drive to have the club reopened.

Among the many activities planned for the boys are handicraft, boxing, archery, choral work, wood work, baseball, and just about anything else a normal growing boy will enjoy.

Each of these classes will be under the supervision of volunteer workers.

Thanks to Al Arnaudo, who donated $100 worth of wood working machines, the boys will have an opportunity to learn intricate wood work.

Thanks, also, must go to Frank Lombardi who has donated the club house, and will pay all the utilities.

The decision to open the Boys Club was made at the Wednesday night meeting of the board of directors. At that meeting P. J. Nolli was elected president; Joseph Belizzi, vice-president and publicity director and Marion McKaskle, secretary and treasurer.

Also, appointed to the board of directors were Al Arnaudo, Frank Lombardi, Roy Beecher, Roland Petrocchi, and Marion McKaskle. These are in addition to other members appointed several months ago.

As planned, boys who wish to take part in the club will be asked to donate $1.00 a year, which may be paid in 50 cent installments. Purpose of this is not to finance the club, but rather to instill in the boys a feeling of belonging to the organization.

However, any member who can not afford the aforesaid fee will be given a sponsor, Mrs. McKaskle said. The club will deny no boy the right to enjoy its facilities, she added.

Meanwhile, anyone interested in helping the club financially, or with special skills or talents is asked to contact Mrs. McKaskle at PL 5-2574 or 158 E. Vista.

Thanks to the many earlier contributions, the club now has some

State Denies 35 MPH Westlake Speed Limit

The State Division of Highways this week refused to cut the speed limit on the extension of Highway No. 1 (through Westlake) from 55 to 35 miles per hour.

Mayor Paul Green, on behalf of Daly City, requested the speed limit several months ago.

The request was based on the fact that some 450 families now reside in Westlake, and the highway constitutes a menace to their safety. Mayor Green also pointed out that almost 1,000 Westlake workers use the road each day, and they too are endangered by the 55 mile per hour limit.

In refusing to cut the speed, the State Division of Highways said that there still are not enough homes, or buildings in the area to warrant a 35 mile per hour limit.

However, it is expected that as soon as Westlake is further developed the Division will grant the city's request, Mayor Green said. The mayor could not say when the cut would be put into effect.

Meanwhile, the Division also turned down a second request for safety amber blinkers at the two entrances to Westlake off of Highway No. 1. They said the blinkers "have proven unsatisfactory."

Presently, a motorist entering or leaving the Westlake area must move into the stream of east-west traffic without benefit of lights or stop signs.

On the good side of the Westlake traffic ledger was the announcement by the mayor that "soon" the city will request PG&E to put up mercury-lumen lights at the two entrances to the housing area. These are the same kind of high powered lights that will be installed the length of Mission street.

Also, the city this week petitioned the state Public Utilities Commission for a grade crossing at Junipero Serra and Knowles.

Present plans call for the extension of Knowles avenue across Junipero Serra to extension of Highway No. 1. This will give Daly City residents a direct route to Westlake, and will do away with the necessity of using Alemany.

New Phone Numbers For Record, Police

Telephone numbers changed this week for the Daly City Record, police, and all offices in city hall.

However, except for the dropping of the JUniper prefix, the numbers remain the same. A simple method of getting the right call, is merely to substitute PLaza 5 as the prefix for JUniper or DElaware.

New numbers are:

Annl. Junior Olympics Slated For Next Friday

Would-be younger track stars will have their chance to win glory and fame at the annual Daly City Recreation department Junior Olympics next Friday, July 14.

The Jefferson high school field will be the scene of the fifth annual event which is to get underway at 10 a.m.

All boys and girls who wish to participate should sign-up next week with their respective playgrounds.

The boys will compete in three different age groups and the girls will compete in two age groups.

Awards will be given to the first four place winners in each event.

The competition will be on an inter-playground basis. Team scores will be kept. The winning playground will receive a banner.

Scoring will be as follows: 5 points for first, 3 points for second, 2 points for third, and 1 point for fourth.

Each participant may enter in any three field events plus two track events and two relays.

Events include: dashes, relays of different types, broad jump, high jump, baseball and football throws, and football kick.

Sign up now at your playground. The playground director will give you the details.

Daly City Land Values Up $1 Million In Year

The value of land and improvements in Daly City are up $1,258,873 over last year, to an all time high of $7,157,838.

This increase in valuation can be accounted for in the phenomenal growth of the community, as confirmed by the preliminary 1950 census figures which show Daly City now has a population of 15,066.

The increased valuation is expected to help meet the higher city budget, which was announced last week as being $516,915 for the coming fiscal year. Although the basic tax rate will not increase (it is now about $1.16 per $100), by upping the value of the property, more revenue will be made availabie to the city.

O. B. Hempstead, county assessor, also reported this week that for the county as a whole, assessed valuations were up 9.08 per cent to a new high of $193,506,754.

Biggest increases were in San Mateo, which rose $3,950,119 to $33,867,884, and Redwood City, where the values rose $1,356,821 to $18,011,386.

Daly City showed the third largest increase, with Menlo Park and Burlingame also over the $1,000,000 mark.

In Colma, the gain was but $6,700 to a new mark of $528,435.

The secured rool for the new fiscal year shows the assessed value of the county's 13 cities to be $147,939,944, compared to $135,839,270 for 1949-50, a net gain of $12,100,674.

Assessed value of real estate in the unincorporated areas amounts to $45,566,810, as compared to $42,$36,810 for the last fiscal year for an increase of $3,530,000.

How We Hope She Is Right

Bill Katz:

How can you write such an awful statement that the majority of people want a third war.

Everybody I know, or have ever talked to, is against another war, more so since this outbreak in Korea.

No one in his right mind would want another war, even to make a statement like that is horrible.

HOW IT LOOKS FROM A CORNER

courts these days, and in the memories of many Daly City residents.

A. J. Bodien, Daly City works superintendent, recalls the days when the railroad owned an engine, cars and miles of track from San Francisco to Mussel Rock. They started a line from Santa Cruz up the coast, but before it was completed a strike forced the company to scrap its engine and plans alike. At no time was the line ever secure, at least geographically, Bodien noted. Between constant slides and the coming of automobiles, the railroad company was always on shaky ground.

Bodien remembers on one of the last runs, he spent half the time in the rear car preparatory to jumping off.

"Near Mussel Rock the engineer stopped the train, got off and tested several of the ties with his foot," Bodien said. "We asked him why, and he said he just wanted to be sure the track was steady."

As this particular stretch of track ran close to a notable drop of some 50 feet, Bodien said he had little faith in the engineer or the train.

Although the company is no longer operating trains, it still owns a parcel of land from San Francisco down the coast. It is over part of this land that the railroad is now in court, asking Henry Doelger for $375,000 in damages. (More of this can be found elsewhere in the Record.)

More and more the old timers in Daly City are shaking their heads and wistfully commenting: "Once I used to know everyone, but these days there are so many new comers it's hard to keep up with things."

Last week's census figures demonstrated all too clearly that the oldsters' memories weren't fading, but rather that Daly City, like Topsy, "just growed" almost overnight.

This is a commendable thing . . . growth, but it leads one to wonder if size can always be a fit measurement for happiness. As a community increases population ways and area ways, it begins to lose individuality and becomes a hetrogeneous mass of living units with occupants who rarely know the name of the man next door. Enraptured in its own growth, the city loses contact with itself.

Recent scientific studies demonstrate that once the community spirit is lost, and men dwell only in thoughts of themselves they are apt to turn into fit cases for "Dr. Snake Pit." A feeling of belonging, being a part of a community is essential to individual happiness, and this is often lost as the city fathers eagerly count the census figures and lose tract of what those numbers represent.

This is not an argument against growth, for a town, as any living thing, must grow to survive. However, in the fury to be bigger than the next fellow, let us not forget the men, the women and the children within that city.

It seems to us the answer to this paradox is two-fold. First, the man who can never be happy unless he has 'elbow room" should move to an area beyond the reaches of the 25- or 50-foot lot. Second, and more reasonable for most, the community as it grows larger should within itself foster homogenous units, such as Westlake, Broadmoor, Garden Village, Edgewood Terrace, where a family can be a part of a city, enjoy all its benefits, and yet feel a loyalty, a sympathy with their part of the whole.

This solution can be found actively at work in the aforesaid housing areas, in and round Daly City, as embodied in the Garden Village Property Owners Association, the Westlake Association, The Broadmoor Association, and the Edgewood Terrace Sivic Association. Each of these organizations stresses the necessity of actively assisting the individual, both socially and economically, in reference to his home, his section, and his city.

So, for the old timers and the new residents alike, we'd suggest they do everything in their power to help Daly City grow, but not lose sight of the importance of themselves, and the section of the city in which they live.

Support your community associations to support the basic tenets of democratic individualism.

primarily with budget and financial affairs. He also served as the city's purchasing agent.

A native of San Francisco, Wendling spent eight years in Daly City. During the war, he served in the navy for four years. He is married and has a four month old daughter.

"Our choice is based on Wendling's experience, both in the theory and practice of operating a city," Mayor Green said today. "We were also impressed with his intimate knowledge of background events and personalities in Daly City."

Wendling said he was pleased with the appointment, and welcomes the opportunity to return to the Daly City scene.

The appointment of Wendling came almost one year after Daly City decided to hire an administrative officer. Last July the job was set up for a city manager, but later the title was changed to administrative officer.

In his new post, Wendling will act as a coordinator of city affairs and advisor to the city council. He will have no legislative powers.

Cost to the city for the new post will be approximately $10,000 a year, as indicated in the 1950-51 budget.

The Goodare machine was the third automobile that crashed when Jacob H. Johnson, 42, 27 Hillcrest drive, made a turn off Junipero Serra onto Parkview. As he made the turn, a car driven by Robert Clark, 27, Fort Lewis, Washington, hit the side of his machine. The Goodares struck the Clark car.

Early Sunday morning, two cars were damaged when they collided at the intersection of the Westlake entrance and Highway No. 1. Driving the cars were Zelma Benton, San Francisco and Owen W. Morgan, San Francisco.

At 3:20 p.m. Saturday another accident was reported at the intersection of Junipero Serra and Highway No. 1. Driving the machines were William Tappa, San Francisco and Melboure Neel also of San Francisco. The right front of the Neel car was so badly damaged that the auto had to be towed to the Daly City garage, police said.

SUMMER RECREATION

By ELMAN ROSE
D. C. Recreation Director

Keep informed and take part in the weekly city-wide tournaments. The next two are: paddle tennis at Jefferson high school tennis courts on Friday, July 7, at 1:30 p.m., and horseshoes at Marchbanks Park on Friday, July 14, at 1:30 p.m. See playground directors for details and sign up.

The first Western movie of the summer program will make its appearance on the recreation movie screen on Monday, July 10. The film is Melody Ranch, starring Gene Autry. Two shows are held at the high school game room starting at 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. and one show is held at Bellevue Hall at 2:30 p.m.

Elsewhere in the Record you will find other recreation activities.

The Daly City Recreation Department offers many more interesting things to do, so come and see us.

Thornton Beach Party

Over one hundred girls and boys from the five Daly City playgrounds enjoyed a day at Thornton Beach on Wednesday, June 28. Each group, accompanied by their playground directors, hiked the two miles to the beach, leaving their grounds at 10:30 a.m.

At the beach, wading, digging in the sand, and roasting hot dogs proved most popular. The day was a bit chilly, so warm fires were kept going for those who wanted to rest between activities.

Glen Smith, Marchbanks playground director, was the head chef at the hot dog "stand." He was ably assisted by Claude Unselt. Robinson, a junior play leader at Marchbanks, was in charge of dispensing the soft drinks. Bucky Linhares, the Lincoln Playground director, served as lifeguard, assisted by other directors.

In spite of the cool day, everyone had a good time.

Roll call was taken at 3 p.m., then came the hike home. After running all over the beach up to to this time, the hike back seemed a bit longer than when going out fresh in the morning. M'thinks all slept well that night.

See the playground directors regarding next week's outings.

Last Monday Marchbanks park was the scene of the first Examiner baseball school held in Daly City by the Daly City Recreation department.

About 200 boys attended, plus a good number of spectators. The holidays prevented as large a turn out as last year, when 400 boys took part in the department's school.

Walter Judge, in charge of the Examiner school, indicated he would bring back the school next year.

Starting at 10 a.m., the school during the morning was given over to the 12 years, and under group. The faculty included Oscar Vitt, Patty Cottrel, Joe Spring and George Wolfman. They covered the fundamentals of baseball, after which the boys were placed on teams and coached as they played.

A similar procedure was followed in the afternoon with the older boys.

Some of the local lads who found favor with the staff included: Ed Cereghino, Alex Findlay, Don Lunghi, Leo Giannechini and Harold Mosman. The staff also liked Jack Allan's strong arm. They advised him to keep working at his pitching.

Probably some of the aforesaid boys will make the Examiner all star Northern California line up.

PITY THE POOR HORSES

By Ridgely Cummings

This is the inside story of a sporting event that was duly examined and chronicled in an obscure corner of the great metropolitan dailies under a head reporting that Press Club "poloists" won a match with the Newspaper All-Stars (?) the other Sunday, four to one.

The question mark after the All-Stars and the quotes around polo players are not typographical errors. They belong there.

The Press Club Black Cats, of which I was a member, were scheduled to meet at the St. Francis Riding Club near Golden Gate Park at 12:30 on this momentous Sunday to don the uniforms which Team Captain Gerry McClean had arranged to provide.

But Gerry, who in saner moments is picture editor of the Examiner, had run into difficulties. He had spent Saturday scouring the town looking for black polo shirts and hadn't been able to find any. So Saturday night he bought blue ones and spent the wee hours dyeing them black and sewing numerals on the back.

Despite Gerry's patient labor in labor in behalf of the Club's color scheme—club mascot is a black cat—he got to the field before two and distributed the shirts to George Davis and myself.

The All-Stars were wearing yellow shirts and had also managed to dig up four pair of white riding breeches so that they presented a pristine and almost professional appearance.

Will Tevis, the Bay Area's outstanding polo player, furnished us horses and Art Tisdale, manager of the riding academy and a member of Tevis's team, supplied pith helmets and mallets. The polo balls were imported from India through some kind of promotion tieup that I never got to understand because I was bouncing around on my horse too much to hear all of Announcer Bill Guyman's explanation.

We got off to a good start. George Voight, a Chronicle reporter and former radio columnist, walked with me to the east end of the field to get our horses. Through some mixup I was assigned to a different horse from the chestnut gelding I had practiced on.

He was a spirited black beast. No sooner had I got in the saddle and barely got my feet in the stirrups than he took off, anxious no doubt to display his speed.

These polo ponies wear curb bits with a four-handed bridle but I had not yet got the four reins separated and was holding them bunched in my left hand. In my right hand was the mallet, and as we galloped down the field the wind lifted my borrowed helmet, which was too small, and I caught that with the right hand also.

So I had no chance to use the curb on the horse and all I could do was pull back on all four reins and try to keep my seat. When I finally got him under control I found myself near Voight again. He said, "Ridge, I can't keep my darn helmet on." I said that mine had blown off too, and suggested we ditch them.

During practice we had ridden without head protection and no one had got hurt, so we tossed them on the sidelines. But there were some sticklers for etiquette present, and we were talked into putting on new helmets. The one I got this time had a chin strap and stayed on, settling that problem, but I noticed that George continued to have trouble with his and at hot moments of the fray would have to forego a swing to save the hat.

When everyone was properly accountered and in control of their horses we started the parade to the center of the field, under the direction of Tevis and Bob Heckett, who was acting as an official too, to salute the flag.

This probably was an impressive sight and I saw Jimmy Stewart of the Examiner taking pictures as we wheeled in place by the flags and the loud-speaker gave out with the Star-Spangled Baner, but most of my attention was directed to restraining my horse, who still wanted to do a solo act.

The music stopped and Bill Guyman took over the microphone. Bill knew all the players well enough to bawl good-natured insults at us with a complete absence of inhibition. Then Bob Heckett threw in a ball and we were off.

To those of us on the field it seemed a fast, rip-snorting game but I understand the spectators saw it differently and thought the horses did a lot of trotting, walking and just plain standing still.

In the first few minutes George Davis, who played number four man for the Black Cats and was the only rated player on the field, got possession of the ball and sent it sailing down the field for the first goal.

The rest of the chukker was spent milling around and was over unexpectedly soon.

At the start of the second period, when we were up at our goal, Stu McClure of the All-Stars (?) hit a long drive and the horses seemed to go crazy. Mine took off like a streak of black lightning, right for the ball. I was over it when the whistle blew, the horse stopped and I had a chance to look around and see that Bob Campbell and Bill Young, Chronicle photographers, had each been thrown from their mounts at opposite ends of the field.

One of the horses ran away but was caught and the game proceeded.

I suppose the high spot of the game came in the fourth chukker when Bill Young was given a horse that refused to do more than amble slowly around in midfield while the play dashed back and forth past him. Bill doffed his helmet and bowed to Guyman's magnified insults and the crowd roared.

It was the biggest crowd of the season for a polo game, more than 5,000 and many of them no doubt lured by the expectation of mayhem and mishaps as the journalistic cavalry took to the field.

There were no casualties and all ended well. High point of the afternoon for me came when I hobbled back to Jim Shaw's car and found Press Club President Leo Lee dispensing nice cool cans of beer to the weary victors.

Supervisors Air $2,617,000 Plan For County Hospital

Plans for development of a San Mateo county Community hospital over the next 10 years were presented to the county board of supervisors this week.

Estimated cost of the hospital, which will serve residents throughout the county, is $2,617,000, County Health Director Dr. Harold Chope indicated.

As planned, the board will begin construction of the first half of the health center within the next few years. Total cost of this unit is expected to be $433,000.

Dr. Chope, said that the master plan will take care of the county hospital needs for the next decade. Ordered by the supervisors a year ago, the plan calls for the moving of all health and welfare department operations to the Community Hospital site.

Upon total completion, the hospital would have a total of 345 beds, compared to the present 198, which includes 40 in the obsolete hospital annex.

Dr. Chopes said the present hospital can handle, per bed, about .64 per cent per 1,000 population.

Approximately 25,000,000 gallons of water will be needed to fill the huge aquatic course where speedboats will race at the California State Fair on September 3 and 10 during the Exposition which runs from August 31 through September 10.

More than 7,000 purebred cattle, sheep, swine and goats will compete for $100,000 in premium awards at the California State Fair, August 31 through September 10.

Circus acts, clowns, bands and strolling musicians will provide free entertainment 14 hours each day during the California State Fair, August 31 through September 10.

The diversified items of the state's huge floriculture industry will combine to form an outstanding flower show during the California State Fair, August 31 through September 10.

BAYSHORE VISITACION VALLEY

By Bernice Hendryx JUniper 4-6449

Some of us have howled that we do not have enough street lights here, and others haven't noticed one way or the other. To those that have howled, here's a note on progress.

The County Engineer made a survey in here some time ago, to see what was what. The result of the survey is that the whole system is due to be revamped.

In most communities, street lights are placed every so many feet. We have a pretty staggered arrangement here, but that is now due to be corrected. More lights will go in on Rio Verde, Acacia, Oriente, Schwerin and MacDonald streets. According to the engineer, this work is due to begin shortly after the paving is completed on Geneva Ave.

This whole thing came about because some people here felt we needed more lights. They managed to get a petition circulated to present to the county, with enough signatures to make it important.

Like all other things, we must pay for what we want. Here is a run-down on what you have been paying, against what you will be paying. The lighting tax at the present time is 7 cents on the $100. These new lights will cost us an additional 6 cents, so you will now be paying 18 cents a $100 on assessed valuation. For the information of those of you that might be paying your taxes in with your FHA loans and what not, most of the new homes in Bayshore assess from $1000 to $1300, so your new lights will cost you about 70 cents a year more than you have been paying.

Families Moving

Moving: We are losing four families in the valley that have been active on committees, boards, etc. The Ness family has sold. Mrs. Lena Ness is vice president of the PTA. The Shere family has sold. Mrs. Hazel Shere has troop 43 of the Girls Scouts. The Thomas family is moving. Mr. Paul Thomas is a member of the School Board. The Yaley family is moving. Mr. Ted Yaley is a member of the Fire Commission.

All of these people will have to be replaced by others that will take an active interest in the community. More of the people in the valley will have to come forward. They must realize that it is up to us to fight for the things that we want here, and that we can't wait for Joe to do it.

Celebrity

A celebrity crept into the valley and crept out without fanfare. Ab Dung, star halfback of Santa Clara spent a week with the Kapukue family at 239 Rio Verde street. Ab was the lad that pulled the Santa Clara chestnuts out of the fire at the Orange Bowl last year.

The Ernest Flade's of 240 Rio Verde are holding their breath, waiting for the results on the State Examination their son just took. He is trying for a Doctor's degree, and has returned to San Diego for further study.

Charlotte Rousis went up to her Lower Lake place recently, and had a pretty close shave. Walking in the underbrush, she was stopped from stepping on a rattlesnake by her pup, who set up a yapping that pulled her up short.

We are happy to hear that Rhoda Lawson is on the road to good health again. Rhoda was laid low with an old spinal injury several weeks ago, and spent a good many days in bed, unable to move about. Those of you that have missed her might cheer her up with a call.

Used Car

To those of you that might be interested in how I came out with the used car I bought. The first week I had it, it only used thirty gallons of gas. After that, I quit keeping count. It upset me too much. I haven't gone broke yet, but then I've spent a lot of time staying home. I am happy to say that I have a little more faith in my fellow man now than I did when I drove the car off the used car lot, the reason being that it hasn't fallen to pieces to date.

Vacation News: The William Doggetts of 271 Rio Verde St. left the 22 of June for a two month vacation. They are going clear through to Massachusetts to visit with Bill's people. Expect to return around August 15.

Pearl Butler's mother returned to her home in Nampa, Idaho, a few days ago. Pearl has had her mother here with her since the middle of April.

Cub Meetings

Mr. Earl Franks, Cubmaster announced that the Cubs would discontinue their pack meetings for the time being. Seems as though vacation from school is a disease that has spead to other things. Ah, glorious vacation time has taken hold with a vengence. Mr. Franks told us that one of the Dens may continue through the summer, unless attendance falls off to the point where it isn't worthwhile.

Kids Attention: The Vacation Bible School at the Bayshore Baptist Church will start Monday morning, July 10. It will continue for two weeks, and they will have a sailing theme for this year. That means that regular official seamens ratings will be given to the youngsters. The oftener you attend, the higher the rating. Better watch out. The teachers will start out as Lieutenants, while you will be lowly seamen. Sounds like fun to try to outrank them.

Westlake Whirl Stopped By Illness

Westlake Whirl, by Marian Christians, will not be published in this week's Record.

Reason: Mrs. Christians is ill, and unable to gather the news. However, she, and news of your Westlake neighbors, will be in next week's Daly City Record.

Meanwhile, if you have any news of interest to you and yours, why not call Mrs. Christians? She will be glad to take the item, and put it in her column.

Mrs. Christians may be reached by calling PLaza 5-0946.

GEN. HART COMMANDS MARINE CORPS SCHOOL

MAJ. GEN. HART

Major General Franklin A. Hart, U. S. Marine Corps, holder of the Navy Cross for heroism on Kwajalein Atoll, is scheduled to take command as Commandant of Marine Corps School, Quantico, Virginia, early in July. Twice in 1918, the veteran of more than 33 years of Marine Corps service, was stationed at the Virginia base.

As Commandant at Quantico, which is called by many, "the University of the Marine Corps," General Hart will direct the Amphibious Warfare Schools, Junior and Senior Courses, The Basic School, Marine Corps Aviation Technical School, and the Ordnance School, to name a few.

In World War I, after being commissioned a second lieutenant on April 6, 1917, General Hart saw action in France as commanding officer, Company "B," Machine Gun Battalion, Fifth Brigade. During World War II, he distinguished himself at Dieppe, France; Roi-Namur, Kwajalein Atoll, Marshall Island; Saipan and Tinian, Marianas Island (where he was awarded the Legion of Merit) and Iwo Jima.

Brisbane Woman Held In Stabbing

Mrs. Margaret Pitcher, 58, was being held in county jail today following an alleged attack on her husband with an eight inch knife Sunday evening.

Floyd F. Pitcher, the husband, was treated at Community Hospital for two stab wounds. His injuries were reported as not serious.

According to the sheriff, Pitcher went to a neighbor's house to borrow some paint. Upon his return his wife stabbed him, police said. No reason was given for the attack.

Air Raid Warning System Asked For SM County

Preparing for any eventuality, San Mateo county this week indicated it would reactivate its air raid warning system.

Wednesday, the county board of supervisors asked County Engineer M. A. Grant to secure a list of men who may be named air raid watch supervisors in the county's rural areas.

Mayor Paul Green could not be reached for comment today, but it is expected that Daly City, as 12 other San Mateo cities, will take no action toward setting up defense measures until orders are received from Governor Warren.

At a recent meeting it was explained that if any action were taken, it should be on lines of a co-ordinate state plan.

However, Redwood City wasn't waiting for word from the Governor. This week the city council ordered reinstallation of the air-raid siren which sounded the signals for blackouts at the county seat during the war.

In the rural areas, especially along the coast, the California State Disaster Council asked the board of supervisors for aircraft warning service stations at Half Moon Bay, La Honda and Pescadero. Grant is to make a survey of the persons eligible and interested in the duties, and to recommend them to the supervisors for appointment.

Canasta Party Slated July 14

Canasta will be the order of the day July 14, at a Lake Merced VFW No. 9921 Auxiliary card party.

The party is to be held at the home of Mrs. James Holt, 114 Garden Lane, Friday afternoon.

All residents of this area, and especially in Broadmoor, Garden Village and Westlake, are invited to attend the party. Those who are not members of the Auxiliary, and wish to attend, are asked to call Mrs. Holt at PLaza 5-4531.

Veterans' on-the-job training enrollments under the GI Bill and Public Law 16 have been dropping steadily for the past 40 months, moving downward from a peak of 720,510 at the start of 1947 to 258,457 by May 1, 1950.

Officer Doesn't Have Dime, But Has Cell

"Buddy, have you got a dime?" asked Owen Wells of Officer Arthur Linhares at the police station Wednesday evening.

The police officer advised Wells that he had best look elsewhere for change.

Wells left the station, proceeded to a car in front of the Hill King restaurant and allegedly rifled the glove compartment.

Just three hours later, at 1:05 a.m., Wells was again facing Linhares, accompanied by officers called by Hill King employes.

"Buddy, have you got a dime," he asked again.

"Nope, but we have a nice cell," Linhares said.

Today Wells, 1299 Fillmore street, faces charges of vagrancy. He is still without the dime.

Indiana Statehood Honored By New Stamp

Issuance of a new three cent stamp, commemorating Indiana's sesquicentennial celebration, was announced today by the post office department.

The stamp went on sale today, July 6, at the Daly City post office.

The stamp marks Indiana's 150 years of statehood from 1800 to 1950. Blue in color, the stamp bears an engraving of the state's first capitol and a miniature of William Henry Harrison.

County Manager Selection Widens

San Mateo county will accept applicants from any part of the nation for the new job of county manager.

This decision was made Wednesday at the board of supervisors' meeting. The vote was 4 to 1 to accept other than county applications.

Under an amendment to the county charter, the county manager post will be appointive.

County Executive officer, will leave office January 1.

At that time the supervisors will give an examination to select three applicants for the position. One of the three will be selected as manager.

Opposed to opening the selection to the nation as a whole was Supervisor Thomas H. Hickey who argued that "there are good men in the state, and at least two in the county who could qualify."

California's Population Now Over 10,400,000

There are now approximately 10,400,000 people living in California, an increase of 3,241,368 over 1940.

This figure is based on the reports from all but six of the state's 58 counties.

The percentage gain in these counties was 50.7, which if it prevails will bring the total population to about 10,411,114.

Shirley Jean Remmer Goes To All Souls Altar With Frank Anthony Zocchi

Shirley Jean Remmer and Frank Anthony Zocchi were united in marriage on Saturday, June 24 at 12 o'clock in all souls church, South San Francisco.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Verna De Coito, 206 Village Lane, was given in marriage by Mr. Frank De Coito.

Her dress was of white satin with a fitted waist and long train. A crown of white satin roses held her finger-tip veil in place. Her bouquet was of bouvardia, lilies of the valley and two white orchids, which was caught by Miss Theresa Mabon.

For something old, the bride wore her grandmother's wedding ring. For something new, the bride wore the traditional blue garter, which was caught by Mr. Lenny Costanzo.

Miss Lorraine Remmer, maid of honor and sister of the bride, was gowned in a frock of yellow marquisette designed with a round neckline and puffed sleeves. She wore a sweetheart hat to match her dress. Her bouquet was of yellow roses.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Charlotte Beckwith who wore Lavendar marquisette and Miss Theresa Maron who was in teil blue. Both wore hats to match their dresses and carried bouquets of yellow roses.

Standing with the bridegroom as best man was Mr. Eugene Lovi. The ushers were Harold Beckwith and Floyd Gonella.

Mrs. De Coito, mother of the bride, was attired in a navy blue suit with white accessories. Mrs. Zocchi wore a deep rose colored dress with black accessories. Both wore white orchid corsages.

A wedding dinner for 77 guests was held at Lyle's restaurant on El Camino real, south San Francisco. Shirley and Frank are honeymooning at Oregon and Yosemite. Upon their return they will make their home in South San Francisco. Shirley's going away outfit was a yellow suit, white hat with brown accessories and two white orchids.

The new Mrs. Zocchi was graduated from Jefferson Union high school and is well known in the Broadmoor-Colma area.

Frank, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zocchi, 512 Maple street, South San Francisco, is a graduate of South City high school. He spent three years in the army and is now employed by a steel company in South San Francisco.

Crocker PTA To Hold Summer Picnic July 11

The Crocker Parent-Teacher Association will have it's annual summer picnic Tuesday, July 11, at San Mateo Park.

This is one of the main summer events of the unit, and it is always attended by old and new members.

Mrs. Anne Eason is chairman of the affair, and she promises a big day for old and young. Games are planned for the children, and means have been devised to let both the children and the adults in on the prizes.

The general plan is for everyone to meet at Evergreen and Mission streets at 10 a.m., where final plans will be made, and according to tradition everybody will bring her own lunch. All members and their children are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Carl Berg, new president of the Crocker group, will have association business of interest to present to the group and plans will be made for another summer get-together in August.

Ann Allen Elected Girls' State Judge

Ann Allen, 16, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace Allen, 146 Vista Grande Ave., and is a student at the Jefferson Union high school, has been elected Justice of the Supreme Court at the Seventh California Girls' State held June 21-29 at the California Junior high school, Sacramento.

Each American Legion Auxiliary Unit in California is permitted to sponsor a girl who is selected on the basis of citizenship, leadership, scholarship and character. Some units join forces to share the cost of sponsoring a girl who will have an opportunity to return to her community and school next fall as a senior to make use of the practical lessons in government learned at Girls' Slate. There are 332 delegates in attendance this year.

During the week's activities, the girls organize city, county and state units of government, electing officers and establishing ordinances and laws for each.

Sermon Topic Is Announced

Sermon topic at the Ocean View Community Congregational church, Broad street, this Sunday will be: "Is God a Spectator?"

The Rev. Bennett will deliver the sermon at 11 o'clock.

Sunday school is to be held for the young people beginning at 9:45 a.m.

And for children not old enough to attend the Sunday school, there is a nursery available.

The public is cordially invited to attend the Sunday services.

Eagles Auxiliary Hold Annual Kids' Picnic

By DOROTHY JOHNSON

The annual picnic of the Colma Vista Grande Ladies Auxiliary was held June 29.

A truck and car carried some 50 women and children across the Golden Gate bridge to the beautiful park in Mill Valley. The day included games, contests and a scavenger hunt.

Prizes donated by the members of the Auxiliary were given to the children. Everyone had an enjoyable time.

Meanwhile, reports of the convention held in Sacramento were given by the delegates, Mary Wheeler, Clara Scally, Frances Nenstiel, Midge Fehl and Dolly Davison at the last meeting of the Auxiliary, June 27.

Also seen at the convention were: hospitality chairman for the bay area, Agatha Heyden; president, Lorene Gardner; Alberta Diebelk, Donna Almquist, Edna Mona, Leona Denton, Dorothy Sweetman, Virginia Lagomarsino, Genevieve Allain, Jessie Martin, Anita Lopez and Ruby Jones.

All reported the convention a great success, and lots of fun. They witnessed a colorful parade on June 17, with the president of the Auxiliary riding the float for the bay area as a goddess.

Honored guests of the June 27 meeting were Irene Pinzlow, senior state past president; Isabel Dagna, junior past president of 1375, East Oakland; Alice Fleckenstein, member of Oakland No. 7.

The first sewing club meeting of the new term will be held July 13 from 1 p.m. until 3 at the home of Vice President Alberta Diebel, 353 Bellevue avenue. Helen Klingamen is chairman of this group.

YWCA Offers Varied Summer Activity Courses

July 10 marks the opening day for the second summer term at the YWCA, 620 Sutter Street. Many creative and recreational courses have been planned to interest San Franciscans spending the months of July and August in town.

"Silk screen printing has proved so popular, we've been asked to set up a new class for this second summer term," reports Lucy Schulte, program director for the young adult department. The course will feature printing of textiles for yardage, place mats and other linens as well as the designing and printing of Christmas cards. Regisration is now open for this Wednesday evening class, starting at 7 p.m. on July 12.

Another very popular "creative art" is ceramics. This course, beginning July 10, will convene every Monday at 6:30 p.m. for 8 weeks. All types of clay work are taught, including the firing and glazing. The YWCA has its own kiln, which adds to the enjoyment of this hobby. Also on Monday nights at 7 p.m. a class in sewing will be held, and on Thursdays a millinery class.

Square dancing and social dancing, always favorites with the young adult crowd will be highlighted in this second summer term. Wednesdays and Fridays square dancing, with Ed Kremers as caller, will hold sway in the gymnasium. Thursdays advanced ballroom dancers will take their lessons at 7 p.m. followed by the beginners at 8:30 p.m.

Many will take advantage of courses in tennis, golf and swimming during this summer period. Beginning tennis will be given Tuesdays at 6:15 and 7:15 p.m. and Thursdays at 6:15 p.m. Golf begins July 13 and August 10 for a series of 4 lessons on Thursdays at 7:15 and 8:15 p.m. This course, too, is for beginners. Swimming classes have been arranged for convenient hours during the morning and evening for beginners, intermediates and advanced. The pool also is open every day for pleasure swimming at specified hours. Call the YWCA for further information and time schedule.

For those who like to keep in trim, classes in gymnastics have been scheduled for Tuesday morning and evening, and for Wednesday and Thursday evening, and a charm contouring course on Wednesdays at 5:30 p.m.

Friday nights bridge and canasta play will continue at 8 p.m.

Everyone is invited to come and get acquainted in this summer term at the YWCA. Registration is open now at 620 Sutter Street.

Woodrow Wilson PTA Health Chairman Calls Attention To Special Program

The Woodrow Wilson PTA health chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Atteberry, calls the attention of parents to the hearing conservation program administered under the California Department of Public Health.

In connection with this program, the law requires an adequate test of hearing for each school child. Instruction in the technique of testing is offered under the program, and the testing must be done by qualified supervisors of health who are certified by the State Board of Health as school audimetrists.

In our district, an annual test is performed on each child by the county audiometrist, and those children whose hearing is impaired are given special instruction and attention. Woodrow Wilson Primary is very fortunate in having the services of Miss Althea Belli, who has worked patiently and diligently, through her lip-reading classes, to assist children whose speech is defective and/or whose hearing is impaired.

Throughout the year, Miss Belli gives individual care and attention to each child in (1) the matter of seating, so that the student may get the most out of his instruction in spite of speech or hearing difficulties; (2) the teaching of lip-reading; and (3) the use of hearing aids which may be plugged in and used right in the classroom.

The district has recently purchased an audiometer which has made it possible to check on new students and to make a progressive check throughout the year to determine any improvement or loss of hearing in those students previously tested. Both Miss Belli and Miss June Gross, our school nurse, perform the progressive tests on those students who required special attention as a result of the screening which had been done by the county audiometrist.

It is doubtful if any more than a small percentage of parents realize the strong importance of the early training and rehabilitation of these children. In our modern educational program, there is a great need for more trained teachers to undertake this task. Many heretofore "indifferent" or "stubborn" children have turned out to be geniuses of the family, when their speech or hearing trouble were made evident through hearing tests and the work of school audiometrists, and lip-reading teachers.

Among those local schools providing approved courses in audiometry are San Francisco State College, and College of the Pacific, Stockton. These courses will meet the requirements for certification of school audiometrists. For more specific information, inquiry should be made directly to the colleges concerned, or to the State Department of Public Health.

Woodrow Wilson PTA program chairman, Mrs. Edward Goldkuhl, plans to feature a speaker on hearing conservation at the regular meeting in January. At that time, a film will be shown to demonstrate the work being done to aid in the program. More details will be published on this program at a later date, as it will be of interest to the many parents in the community whose children are already benefitting by it.

YOUR DALY CITY GARDEN CLUB NEWS

By ELSIE M. GARRISON

When vacation time rolls around, it must be admitted that the desire to get away to that retreat in the mountains or to the lake, or on that trip, seems to take precedence over everything else.

For the most part, I think it is a healthy state of affairs—for no matter where you go, home looks twice as good when you come back. One's perspective changes, when problems can be viewed calmly and dispassionately. The lucky people who live in this area really do not have to go away to "lose themselves" in a new environment. A little patient inquiry will disclose hundreds of adjacent areas in Marin, East Bay, and the Peninsula where even native sons and daughters have never been. San Francisco itself has many free programs in Sigmund Stern Grove, Golden Gate Park, Aquatic Park and many, many others, all listed in the local papers.

It is ironic, but nonetheless true, that visitors who live hundreds of miles away are very often the ones who acquaint the residents with the "places to go." And what a wealth of diversified interests that are served. There is no doubt that the flowers and landscaping is one of the main attractions of California, and you will see new techniques and varieties which only this climate will tolerate. I can tell you in advance, if gardening is your hobby, that you need not look for the unusual in this category in any other state or clime.

Staying at home, you will discover, even on a day or weekend trip, what you could not net on a transcontinental tour. Of course I do not suppose that you are limited to one hobby only, nor am I.

With the happy prospect of a Canadian trip in the offing, I intend to get in some good trout fishing, and show friend husband that I can catch as well as cook! Also, while I hate to show up our Fish and Game editor Jimmie Fox, I expect to put his column somewhat in the pale, with the resultant tallies of greyling trout from the Little Red River north of Calgary, Alberta, on the Alcan. The Bow and Spray Rivers at Banff are the most scenic and rewarding on the continent and we are looking forward to it zestfully. However, I do not expect to find the equal of our own flowers, either in individual beauty or profusion. While the Canadians are noted for their beautiful residences, and pride in their streets, homes and parks, their climate makes it impossible to have the gorgeous blooms which beautify our state.

The flowers which we here take for granted, such as the geranium, daisies, lilies, rhododendron, etc., require constant care, both in exposure and temperature. In winter, no plants survive in the north without special housing and care. Yet all around us here, are still a few homes, whse owners or tenants have not taken the blessed opportunity in beautifying their home and background with flowers that are inexpensive, beautiful, and grow practically by themselves.

I am very happy to report that in my absence this column will be taken over by Mr. Shirl Mollette, who is also treasurer of the Daly City Garden club. Mr. Mollette is a practical dirt gardener, and his know-how comes from experience first hand. I know that his commentary will be appreciated by the home gardeners, who can learn a great deal from him.

On a recent trip to Letterman hospital, I became acquainted with "Mother Owens," a retired schoolteacher, who has, ever since the war, arranged flowers, and bouquets, for those who have no visitors, and for the beautification of the wards and recreation roms. Her task is a gigantic one, and she told me a little sadly, that since the war, people have "forgotten," and she no longer has volunteers to help her. I am sure that there must be many, right here in Daly City, who could and would be happy to spend some time each week in this endeavor. Anyone interested may call the Y—located in the Presidio, and ask for Mother Owens.

Fascinating Fashions

By Judy Seaton

Spring is the threshold to a lot of informal festivities — picnics, beach parties and country weekends—calling for special clothes requirements. Every woman's wardrobe should include some easy-going, comfortable outfits suitable for such casual occasions, and they can be practical as well as smart, when they're the sort of clothes which can double in one's work-a-day life, too.

Betty Winkler

Each of the costumes pictured here represents a style that is particularly well-entrenched with fashionable women in all age groups. The always-acceptable sweater and skirt is an outfit that can never go out of style, and is especially invaluable for country living. Betty Winkler, star of the CBS daytime serial, "Rosemary", swears by this versatile combination.

"I love the comfortable feeling of a sweater and skirt," Betty says, "because these clothes are rugged enough for Spring outdoor activities — but still smart-looking and in good taste." Women who knit can ring endless changes on the sweater and skirt theme with a variety of goodlooking sweaters. A string of pearls or a bright scarf knotted at the throat can add color and gaity.

Another favorite Spring and Summer fashion is the dirndl or peasant-type dress. No matter what fashion changes come with the new season, these frocks, usually fashioned of small-patterned challis - type prints, with their full skirts and snug bodices, have a classic permanency in the casual department of your wardrobe. Fran Lafferty, of CBS's "Perry Mason," finds the wide-swinging skirts wonderful for square dances, and can make a street outfit of her simple cotton dirndl simply with the addition of a straw bonnet and spanking fresh white gloves.

Fran Lafferty

With a variety of gay casual clothes like these in your closet, you can't help having fun.

VFW Auxiliary Entertains Vets

Ward No. 11 at the Palo Alto Veterans hospital was given a party last Wednesday evening by members of Old Glory Auxiliary No. 2022, VFW.

Assisting with the party were members of Matalin Auxiliary No. 2068, VFW of San Mateo.

Refreshments were served to all the boys, following an evening of dancing.

This is a closed ward, and anything done for the boys is surely apreciated. Among those helping were Mesdames Mary Conti, Marjorie Johnson, Shirley Walker and Evelyn Webb.

Happy Birthdays!

Harry, "the happy baker" wishes the following residents the best of everything on their coming birthdays:

July 9: Mrs. Erma Schulda, 82 Market street; Louis J. Firpo, 63 Werner.

July 10: Dorothy Waters, 1411 Sweetwood drive.

July 12: Rita Del Buono, 71 Mateo avenue; Donnie, Ronnie and Shirley Eli, 18 E. Cavour.

July 13: Mrs. Tina Hollingsworth, Colma.

New Arrivals

To the wife of Eugene R. Valeboe, 616 Larchmont drive, June 24, a daughter.

To the wife of William Chalmers, 150 Crocker avenue, June 29, a son.

NEWS OF YOUR NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Goldkuhl, 98 Belmont drive, Westlake, were given a house warming by the ladies of the Daly City Fire Department Auxiliary No. 2 last Thursday. The party came as a complete surprise to the Goldkuhls, who only recently moved into their Westlake home. About 15 ladies attended the party, bringing with them their own cakes and refreshments. As a permanent reminder of the affair, the Goldkuhls were presented with a copper bowl planted with a flower for their new home.

Marie Glasse, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. John Glasse, 820 Larchmont drive, Broadmoor, was attending the second national assembly of the Westminister Fellowship, which attracted 1,800 youths and 200 adults from all corners of the United States and several foreign countries to Grinnell College, Iowa, campus last week—June 26 to July 2. Representing the teen age and college age youth of the Presbyterian church, the Assembly emphasized the return to Biblical Christianity by young people, with the theme, "Set Aflame His Story." Topics which were the subject of study, debate and discussion ranged from the nature of the modern university to politics, Christian beliefs, and dating.

James Kruezer, 170 Santa Barbara, is usually a friend with dogs. However, last Sunday afternoon an unidentified pooch bit the young boy as he was walking down Shakespeare street. The bite was not serious, police said. However, today officers are looking for a dog that turned on the small boy.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Robertson, formerly of 371 Irvington street, are now living in Redwood City. They lived in Daly City for some 18 years, and were well known for their flourishing egg business. The Robertson's are now residing at 116 Kentucky avenue, in Redwood City.

Geraldine Ricordo, 61 Moltke street, who was stricken by infantile paralysis in the 1948 epidemic, is still in an iron lung today. The 16 year old girl is under treatment by the San Mateo county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. She is now living with relatives in San Francisco, but her legal residence remains in Daly City, and is therefore still the responsibility of the San Mateo chapter.

Cub Pack No. 63 Awards Badges

Several members of Cub Pack No. 63 received badges and awards at the pack's regular meeting last Friday evening.

Cubmaster Gene Davies made the following awards: Don Aicardi, Dan Rix, John Tarrango and Mike Linton each received a wolf badge. Mike also received a golden arrow.

The bear badge was given John Jenna, George Ojakian and Thomas Coleman.

Following the awards, the other members gave the pack cheer for the new badge holders.

Den No. 2 sang three songs, and this was followed by an inspection of the pack by the pack fathers. Games and refreshments concluded the meeting.

Cubmaster Davies is happy to report that at the last meeting the majority of parents of the cubs attended. He hopes this will continue, as the boys appreciate having their fathers and mothers at the meetings.

Legion Election Set For July 16

Election of new officers for American Legion Post No. 410 is scheduled for July 13, Commander Peter Bordson said today.

Before the election nominations will be received from the floor, Bordson added.

The new officers will be installed early in August, and will serve for the 1950-51 term.

Meanwhile, Donald Mills, 498 Willits, left the recent Legion dance and dinner $50 richer, Bordson said. Mills had his choice of the money or $50 worth of liquor. Bordson noted that the liquor will be sold to Legion members at some future date.

Use Dad's Tools in the Kitchen

Singeing chickens is just one of the household tasks ably and easily handled with a new hand torch made originally for the work bench or hobby shop of the man of the house. By making use of a new type of fuel in a handy container which is thrown away when empty, the new "Prepo" torch lights instantly without pouring, pumping or priming. Other home uses include lighting coal, wood and briquet fires in fireplace or outdoor grills and removing paint from furniture. The 2200 degree flame quickly lights such fires without kindling or paper. The torch is so safe and easy to use that anyone can light it with a match—as simple as lighting a gas st...

Stanford Hannah Named District PTA Advisor

Advisory board members for 1950-1951 in Seventeenth District C.C.P.T. have acknowledged receipt of their appointments to Mrs. G. J. Sirex of San Carlos, district president.

Names submitted by Mrs. Sirex were endorsed at a district executive session in June.

Those who are to serve the district were selected for their interest in child welfare projects and in schools of San Mateo county. They will act in an advisory capacity when called upon, and the list follows:

County chief probation officer John S. Cowgill of San Carlos was instrumental in the building of "Hillcrest," the modern county juvenile hall in the Belmont hills. Miss Clara B. Dills of Redwood City has served as county librarian for twenty years, always sharing her great love of books with students and adults alike. On Monday, June 28, Miss Dills returned from a three months' tour of western Europe and England.

As advisory members Superintendents Stanford Hannah, Jefferson Union high school; Miss Ruth Melendy, San Carlos elementary schools; Stanley O. Schnepple, Ravenswood elementary district in East Palo Alto; and George V. White, Burlingame elementary schools, represent their areas on the board.

President Charles S. Morris of San Mateo Junior college is available for advisory assistance in his special field. Max Thornton of Redwood City as the Garfield elementary school principal is a PTA booster for his city.

Mrs. L. G. Owen of Redwood City, first president of Seventeenth District CCPT, continues to support and inspire leaders and members in PTA in all parts of the county. District awards of California honorary life memberships have been made for past services to Mrs. Owen, Miss Dills, and the Messers Morris, Hannah, and Cowgill.

Mrs. Dorn Named Hospital Chairman

Several members of Old Glory Auxiliary No. 2044, VFW, recently attended the VFW encampment in Santa Monica.

Delegates included Mesdames: Ruth Brulez, Ethel Dorn, Eleanor Cochran and Marjorie Johnson.

Mrs. Dorn was appointed hospital chairman for the twelfth district.

All of the delegates have returned home, but for Marjorie Johnson who will continue her vacation with a trip to Chicago and South Dakota. She expected to be home by August 1.

While Cameras Grind Thieves Are At Work

While Adolph Russell was operating the movie projector in the Daly City Theatre Tuesday evening, unidentified thieves were "operating" on his car.

Russell, 2240 San Francisco, earlier parked his car behind the Bank of America. When he returned at 9:15 p.m. he found someone had stripped the machine of the radio, aerial and even the manufacturer's emblems, police report.

Sheridan PTA To Hold Picnic

Sheridan PTA will hold its second picnic of the summer at San Bruno Park on Wednesday, July 19, at 11 a.m.

Plan to keep this day open for yourself and the children. Remember the family that plays together stays together. Guests from other PTA units will also be most welcome to join the group.

The June, 1950, graduating class enjoyed a two hour excursion around the bay on June 15. Instead of having the usual graduation party, Sheridan PTA contributed $25, thus reducing the cost 50 per cent for each pupil. Miss Bahls, principal, Mrs. Bradford, and Miss Gregersen, teachers of the graduating classes and some mothers of the graduates attended the tour. From all reports, a grand time was had by all.

Star-Lites

By LYN WILSON—ANS

LATEST DISCOVERY, Steve Allen, may look surprised but he is taking the country by storm, and success in his stride, on his Sunday CBS "The Steve Allen Show" (new in June). Steve was swooped off a local Hollywood station and met with over-night success on his coast-to-coast network show. He ad libs, clowns, pixies at the piano and chatters his way thru one of the most delightful radio shows on the air. Assisting him is lovely Ilene Woods whose singing voice was heard recently in Walt Disney's Cinderella. "The Steve Allen Show" replaces "Our Miss Brooks" for the summer.

ELIZABETH TAYLOR, one of today's most famous Hollywood glamour gals, has just been selected as one of the most brilliant stars of the year on NBC's Tuesday "Cavalcade of America." The roster of famous names brought to the microphone this past season, by Du Pont's "Cavalcade" reads like the who's who of the theater—including such film fames as Dorothy McGuire, Gene Tierney, Cary Grant, Tyrone Power, Charles Laughton, ad infinitum. Liz recently staged the most important role of her career as leading lady of the Taylor-Hilton combination.

.. bright star

MEL BLANC, one of film and radio's most talented masters of dialects and voice plays the part of Pedro (and any number of other characters) on NBC's Saturday "Judy Canova Show." With over 100 voices at his command, he can hold a conversation with himself and sound like a room-full of people. Mel got his early training on an Oregon station where he acted all the parts on a half-hour show. He arrived in Hollywood in 1935 and has been in constant demand ever since—and the more voices his scripts call for, the more Mel likes it!

Here's a Pretty Cake and Very Tasty, Too

HOW MANY TIMES have you feasted your eyes on a beautiful cake or salad and said, "Goodness, that's just too pretty to eat"? Well, here's another tempting one to add to the list—a luscious Pumpkin Cake. And we'll wager, pretty as it is, you will be more satisfied with a generous portion—or two, or three. Here is the recipe:

Pumpkin Cake Dessert

½ cup Nucoa margarine
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup white sugar
2 eggs
¾ cup strained cooked pumpkin
½ cup sour milk
1¾ cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon soda
4 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon ginger
½ cup chopped walnuts
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Whole English walnut halves

Cream Nucoa and sugars together until light. Beat eggs and stir in pumpkin and sour milk. Sift flour with soda, baking powder, salt and spices. Add flour and pumpkin mixtures alternately to creamed Nucoa, beating after each addition. Pour into a greased and wax paper lined 9-inch square baking pan. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375° F.) 40-50 minutes. Remove from pan and cool on rack. When cool, spread with sweetened whipped cream and dot with walnut kernels. Yield: one 9-inch cake.

NATIONAL PRESS BUILDING WASHINGTON, D. C.

By Anne Goode

If candles drip on your best table linens, scrape off the drippings with a dull-edged knife or spatula. Then place a clean, white blotter over and another under the spot. Press with a warm iron several minutes using clean parts of blotter until all the wax is absorbed. Now you can launder the cloth as usual.

For epicurean delight, nibble on these toasted nuts. Mix 2 tablespoons real mayonnaise with ½ pound shelled pecans or almonds. Spread in shallow baking pan and bake at 375°F. Pecans take 15 minutes; almonds 25 minutes. Stir nuts with a fork three or four times as they bake. Drain on paper toweling and sprinkle with salt. Mmmmmm! Takes more than a squirrel to appreciate these.

"Oooooops! Something's burning! There goes my pot, but worse—my potatoes. What will Harry say?" Well, he won't say a word or even notice a scorched or burned flavor, if the good pieces are transferred to another sauce pan, fresh water added and the potatoes again brought to a boil. Thus, dinner is saved by the bucket brigade.

This Spring and Summer will find milady pitter-pattering in many different shades of shoes—tangerine, honey-blonde, cherry bounce, even blushing pink and violet. They're lovely to look at, but worrisome to clean. For there's always the danger the pretty color won't be so pretty after cleaning. Just put your faith in the ol' shinola—a thin coat of neutral shoe cream and they're safe.

Wine, Women, Wagering Is Seldom Basic Cause For Embezzlement

Contrary to popular belief, wine, women, or wagering are seldom the true causes of embezzlement, according to Dr. Donald R. Cressey, sociologist on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

In most cases embezzlers violate their financial trust as the result of a chain of events which begins with a "nonsharable" problem, says Dr. Cressey, who has made a special study of embezzlers at the Illinois State Penitentiary.

He cites two examples of how a nonsharable problem may develop:

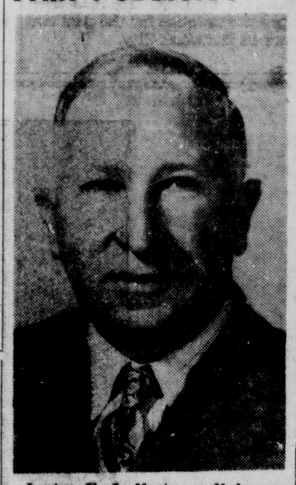
(1) A respectable lawyer with a fine family and a yearly income of $40,000 invests his life's savings in a business venture without consulting his wife or business associates who may be in a position to advise him. The venture fails. He is reluctant to tell his wife he has thrown away their life's savings. He is ashamed to reveal his ineptness in business to his associates. There is no one to share his problem with.

(2) A bank cashier loses heavily to his bookie. Because his position demands that he not be associated with gambling at all, he is denied most sources of advice or loans.

After the development of the nonsharable problem, the next step for embezzlers is to apply to their own conduct a rationalization which makes embezzlement seem somehow justified. For instance, many embezzlers actually delude themselves that they are just borrowing, Dr. Cressey says. The delusion may continue for some time until one day they suddenly realize the borrowing is stealing.

Often this results in their giving themselves up immediately, for few embezzlers care to be identified with criminals, Dr. Cressey adds.

FAIR PUBLICITY



Lester E. Lafferty, well known former editor and publisher of the San Carlos Enquirer today was appointed by William M. Wilson, Manager of the San Mateo County Fair Association, to be director of publicity and advertising for the 16th annual San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta which is to open September 8 at the fair grounds in San Mateo.

San Mateo County Oil Law Revised

Preparatory to what may be an oil boom in the La Honda area, representatives of the oil industry met with the planning commission Friday to discuss the proposed oil drilling ordinance.

The drilling ordinance will set up fees to be paid by the oil companies, specifications for drilling, and safety and health measures for the oil producing area.

Present at the Friday meeting were representatives of the Western Oil and Gas Association, the Honolulu Oil company and Continental Oil company.

SOCIAL SECURITY

The other day a waitress came to our office and said a cafe owner had refused to accept her social security card. She said the name on it had been changed in ink, but other cafe operators had not questioned it.

She showed the interviewer the card. The name had been changed, not once, but three times. Each change had been made by drawing a line through the previous name, and adding a new name above it.

She explained that the changes were perfectly legal because she had been married three times since getting her original card. Even though it was getting a little difficult to read, she felt the boss was just being technical in objecting to the card.

He was right in doing so. It took only a few minutes for her to fill out a request for a change in our records. Then we gave her a new card with the same number, but with only her most recent name typed on it.

She knows now that if she should change her name again, she should request another change in our records, so that her card will always show only only one name—the name under which she works. This is the only way she can always be sure she is being credited with the wages reported by her employers.

While discussing the importance of her wage record, the interviewer explained the working woman's rights under old-age and survivors insurance. As far as retirement benefits are concerned, marriage or divorce has no effect on benefit rights. Whatever retirement benefit she has earned will be paid to her whether she is married or single, when she is 65 years old and retires.

TROUT FISHING ON CONN LAKE IS GOOD

Trout fishing on Conn Lake in Napa County has been good during the past few days, reports the National Automobile Club. Most anglers have been taking catches of sizable fish.

California's gigantic agricultural industry will go on parade in the exhibits of more than 40 counties during the California State Fair, August 31 through September 10.

"Record" Reminiscence

From The Record 10 Years Ago
July 3, 1940

Release of preliminary census figures aroused a storm of protest throughout San Mateo county this week as official tabulations fell far below former population estimates in nearly every community. In Daly City, the preliminary figure of 9,612 proved disappointing to city officials, who had estimated the population as between 11,000 and 12,000 persons.

Concluding a seven month trial period in the operation of a municipal bus line, the Daly City council this week announced that it had in effect disposed of its transportation system.

Two Jefferson students, Rosemary Loney and Herbert Poddig returned home this week from Girls Girls State and Boys State respectively.

Placing third in a statewide field of entries, the Daly City Record received a certificate of award for the best local advertising campaign at the California Newspaper Advertising Managers' convention at Santa Barbara last week.

DALY CITY PLAYGROUND ACTIVITIES

JEFFERSON ELEMENTARY
By Beverly Clement

This week everyone is eagerly looking forward to Wednesday when we will go on a special outing to Muir Woods. The Greyhound bus will take us to Mill Valley where we will begin our day of hiking and eating.

Thursday afternoon Jose Ordonez must defend his paddle tennis championship won last year from Bob Giorni. Competition in paddle tennis is keen and interest is high as always. Everyone has been eagerly practicing in preparation for this "on-grounds" tournament as well as for the city-wide tournament.

CRAFT CENTERS
By James Kraywinkel

The Craft Centers are really underway as of last week. The attendance is very high this year, but so far we have been able to take care of all children.

As most of you know, last year the Peoria Craft Center didn't divide its day, but there are so many this year that we now have those children from 5 years to 8 years in the morning (10:00-11:30) and 8 and over in the afternoon (1:00-4:30 p.m.) The children are making many different paper cutouts, painting statues, braiding and bracelets. There are many things for the children, so send them out.

MARCHBANKS PARK
By Glen Smith

Marchbanks had a checkers tournament on Tuesday.

Those who entered were: Betty Scott, Arlene Callan, Larry Kennedy, John Schwanenger, James Courts, Herbert Ayres, Paul Topin, Jerry Kennedy, Mike Wills, Diane Thompson, Rich Dresmond, Eddie Lyons, Mike Sultron, Al Griffin, John Robinson, Carl Gruenwald, Eddie Willers, Ronald Jennings, Gordon Kennedy, Richard Marquez, Catherine Rasmussen, Turpy Rasmussen and Joe Stagnaro.

The winners were: Richard Marquez in the age group 11 years and under; Carl Gruenwald in age group 15 years and over; Larry Kennedy in age group 12-14 years.

On Friday, Marchbanks had a Backwards Day. Everyone had to have part of their clothing on backwards. A kickball game was played backwards; that is, the bases were run backwards.

JEFFERSON HIGH PLAYGROUND

Girls softball attendance has been very good. Every practice totals 30 to 40 girls. The girls are anxiously awaiting some competition. If anyone knows of a girls softball team interested in a game, please contact Daly City Recreation Dept.

Tournament between Jefferson high players was very successful. Over 30 girls and boys participated. Winners were Ronie Kalinin, 11 and under group; DeWayne Soares, 12-14 years group; Earl McCune, 15 years and over group.

Boys and girls are planning to go to Muir Woods for a picnic and hike Wednesday.

The folk dancing group attendance is growing at every meeting. The more advanced dancers perform in dances such as Hambos, Tangoes, the Hopak, and many other interesting dances.

The smaller children and beginners meet Tuesday and Thursday morning. Everyone is welcome and join in the fun.

LINCOLN PARK PLAYGROUND
By Bucky Linhares

The second week of the recreation program at Lincoln Park was blessed with clear and warm weather, leading to a large and enthusiastic attendance.

The boys, outside of playing basketball, football and ping-pong, devoted themselves to softball practice in anticipation of their first league game which is at Marchbanks Park on Monday, July 3, at 6:30 p.m. Lincoln won the Softball Championship in '49 and hope to repeat in '50. With such outstanding players as Larry Hutchinson, Gene Lorenzo, Bob Murchinson, Owen Charles and Don Wilson to name a few, a repeat championship in '50 is very possible.

The girls of Lincoln are as athletic as any of the boys, participating in tennis, ping-pong and basketball. Many of them are very excellent on the trapeze bars, performing feats that put the boys to shame.

The swings, merry-go-round and a newly installed slide are the pride and joy of the tiny tots who devote the entire day to them.

This week was "outing week" with Thornton Beach the scene of activities. Although there was a heavy fog, it was very warm, and a large turnout was had. Thirty-five hikers left Lincoln Park at 10:15, arriving at Thornton Beach at 11:30 where they joined the groups from Marchbanks and Little Jeff. The day was filled with wading in the surf, hiking along the beach, and other enjoyable events. The tired but happy participants returned to Lincoln Playground at 4:30 p.m.

CROCKER PLAYGROUND
By Regina Warchot

Crocker Playground held a hat contest Friday, June 30. They had 35 hats—funny, original, pretty, old, dirty, clean, big and little.

We had 3 prizes for the prettiest hat. Penny Johnson, Diane Smyser, and Carolyn Smyser won first, second, and third prizes. Johnny Brevant brought a colander for the funniest hat. Jerry Stevens, Leo McArdle, Pearly Hineline and Dwight Rupp also won prizes for funny hats. They had Halloween hats' cowboy hats, feather hats and paper hats. The prizes for the most original hats were won by Susan Bradley, Shirley Day, Theresa Bevant, Linda McArdle, and Noreen Bradley.

The first prize for the most original hat was won by a little yellow straw hat with cherries and feathers over the top. Theresa Bevant's hat was a red and white circus top with animal cookies and straws on top. All contestants received a consolation prize. All the winners paraded around in their hats after they won. A color contest, relay races and other games finished our hat contest. The judges for the contest were Barbara Ottoti, Larry Bradley and Dave. The decision of the judges was final.

Crocker Playground also had an all-city champ from the checker tournament. Ronald Bell was Crocker's champ in the age group under 11. Larry Bradley represented Crocker Playground for the 12-14 age group.

San Francisco Opens New Polio Ward

San Francisco's new 29-bed polio center at the Children's hospital will increase the hospital's facilities for handling acute cases to a total of 45.

The new center will be used primarily for convalescent cases, but it is so arranged and equipped that it can be quickly converted to care for actual contagious cases if needed. The new center, made possible by a grant of $45,000 from the San Francisco Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, replaces an emergency ward set up with March of Dimes funds during the 1943 epidemic.

Coastside Zoning Law To Be Changed Soon

Certain that the construction of the Pillar Point breakwater at El Granada will bring more business to the coastside, the planning commission Friday tentatively approved commercial zoning for the area.

Final action of the proposal will be taken by the commission July 12.

Probably, the commission will recommend that the board of supervisors change about 2,000 feet of frontage along the old Coast Highway from a residential zoning to a limited highway frontage zone.

One-day Carpenter Strike Settled

Carpenters were back at work in San Mateo county and throughout the bay area today following a short lived strike over the holiday.

They have gone back to work with a 15 cents an hour pay raise. The walkout began Monday and ended in the afternoon, when AFL representatives and contractors agreed in San Francisco on a terminal date for a new contract.

Under the former scale, carpenters made $2.22 an hour.

Mayor Paul Green asserted this week that the new wage boost for carpenters will effect original estimates for work on the new Community Center and parks. He indicated that the hike will be felt in higher bids for the various city jobs.

TO CLEAN IS TO SAVE

Keeping the under surface of the fenders free from mud, grease, and the like is money saver, points out the National Automobile Club. The car owner who prefers to ignore the condition of this part of the automobile sooner or later will have his attention called to it by the fact that rust has eaten through the fender. The remedy in such a case is a new part.

$50,000 Fire Guts Palo Alto Store

A $50,000 fire gutted Bailey's Peninsula Furniture company in downtown Palo Alto Wednesday morning when a blaze broke out in the rug department.

One fireman, Larry Simonini, suffered severe burns when blazing tar fell on his hands. He was the only casualty.

Firemen were called at 9:23 a.m., but only after Stanley E. Bailey, owner, and two employes failed to put out the fire with hand extinguishers.

According to Bailey, the store's entire stock of rugs, furniture and household goods was either destroyed or badly damaged.

This was the worst fire in Palo Alto over the past five years.

Redwood City Attorney Joins DA

Robert E. Carey, a Redwood City attorney, today is the newest member of District Attorney Louis B. Dematteis' staff.

The 30-year-old veteran will work with the civil division. Dematteis now has four attorneys in this branch, and four in the criminal division.

Carey received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of California in 1941, and his law degree from the University of San Francisco in 1948. He has been in private practice for the past two years in Redwood City.

DC Woman Struck By Funeral Car

Laurice Kenyon, 59, 158 School street, is recovering today from head wounds she suffered Wednesday afternoon when struck by a car as she crossed Mission at School.

Driver of the automobile was Joaquin Ortiz, 51, Gilbert street, San Francisco.

The victim was rushed to Junipero Serra hospital where she was treated for bruises and a minor head concussion, hospital authorities said. Her condition is reported as "good."

According to police, she stepped out in front of the Ortiz machine.

Ortiz was driving the last car in a funeral procession.

Minor Blazes Keep DC Firemen Busy

Firemen had a busy day Wednesday answering two minor blazes.

The first call was at 11:55 a.m. when Elizabeth Casta, 348 Winchester, reported a fire she started in the back yard had spread to a small fence. Two companies answered the alarm, and in a matter of minutes had the blaze under control.

Second call of the day was a grass fire at School and Junipero Serra. This was quickly brought under control by the three fire ocmpanies at 3:35 p.m.

A total of 2,036,043 World War II veterans obtained $11 billion in GI loans for homes, farms and businesses by the end of April, Veterans Administration reported.

Less than one per cent of loans made to veterans have been in default to the extent that Veterans Administration had to make good the guaranteed and insured portions.

By May 1, a total of 769 disabled veterans obtained Government grants for homes specially designed for "wheelchair living." The grants totaled more than $7,000,000.

I. & E. PROGRAM FOR ARMED FORCES

A few months after the beginning of World War II, American military chiefs realized that the individual lieutenant's interpretation of the causes of the war were insufficient. An organized program was directed by General Marshall to explain to soldiers the reasons why they fought. The program applied to the Air Force and its principles were soon adopted by the Navy.

Gen. Harrison

Motion pictures, posters, and newspapers were used to present facts to our fighting forces. The core of the program was based upon a weekly pamphlet which was analyzed in a free and open discussion by the servicemen themselves. As the war drew to a close, provisions were made for furnishing educational opportunities to service personnel through correspondence courses and group study classes.

Today the I.&E. Program operates for the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps by preparing or making available educational courses, service newspapers, informational motion pictures, posters, radio programs, and its famous discussion pamphlet, "Armed Forces Talk."

The program has been generally lauded by educators, journalists, sociologists, editors and others. Freedoms Foundation, Inc., recently awarded gold medals to "Armed Forces Talk," a series of posters on the Bill of Rights, and a motion picture for the part this material played in bringing about a better understanding of the American way of life to Americans.

The Institute for Education by Radio at Ohio State University has several times awarded top prizes for original radio programs written and produced by the Division. Two of the Division's motion pictures have won oscars from the Academy of Motion Pictures of Arts and Sciences.

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., heads the I.&E. program.

ANGLING ANGLES by old Hi

Well, fellow fishermen, last week we began getting our tackle fixed up for the new fishin' season. We should do this carefully, for often it means the difference between success and an empty creel.

There are certain small, but essential tasks which shouldn't be neglected. For instance, you'll probably do a lot of trolling for various species of game fish using spoons, wobblers, and spinners as lures. Whether these are trolled near the surface or bottom, they should be bright and flashy at all times.

Be sure then, to shine up this hardware at the start, and keep a can of polish and a soft cloth handy in your kit. Also have spoons in nickel, brass, copper, chrome-plated, and hammerer brass in the trays to suit all weather and water conditions.

You may hear arguments that tarnished lures bring better success, but generally it's the glinty spoons and wobblers that attract attention the quickest and incite the fish into striking with a wallop.

This is especially true when you're trolling for king and silver salmon in Puget Sound and river inlets along the Pacific Coast. It also holds for taking landlocked salmon and lake trout in most Eastern waters.

Another job is to see that the points of your hooks are sharp. Test them at regular intervals after some usage for they soon become blunt from snagging into logs and rocks, and you'll lose plenty of fish. Tuck a small carborundum stone in your tackle kit so as to whet the points when dull or rusty.

Examine the mesh of your landing net. The threads may have rotted in the bottom from fish slime or blood that was not washed off properly, or they may have become worn along the rim. We know of huge fish that were lost because of nets that were not repaired.

Perhaps the most vital link, though, is your line. Make sure it is strong and unfrayed. A bait casting line especially gets a rough beating, and needs to be tested frequently where attached to lure or leader. If you have used the casting line for a season, reverse it on the reel so its service will be prolonged. The same may be done with your fly or live bait line, for the end portion always receives some wear from the rod guides.

With an old toothbrush and soft, clean, cloth carefully remove dust and dirt particles from your bait and fly casting reels, and add a drop or two of reel oil. Beware of over-oiling, however, or you'll "gum up the works" for sure!

For a fund of fishing facts, send a postcard to Old Hi, in care of this newspaper, requesting a free copy of his booklet, "Fishing For The Millions."

THREE PILLARS of POWER

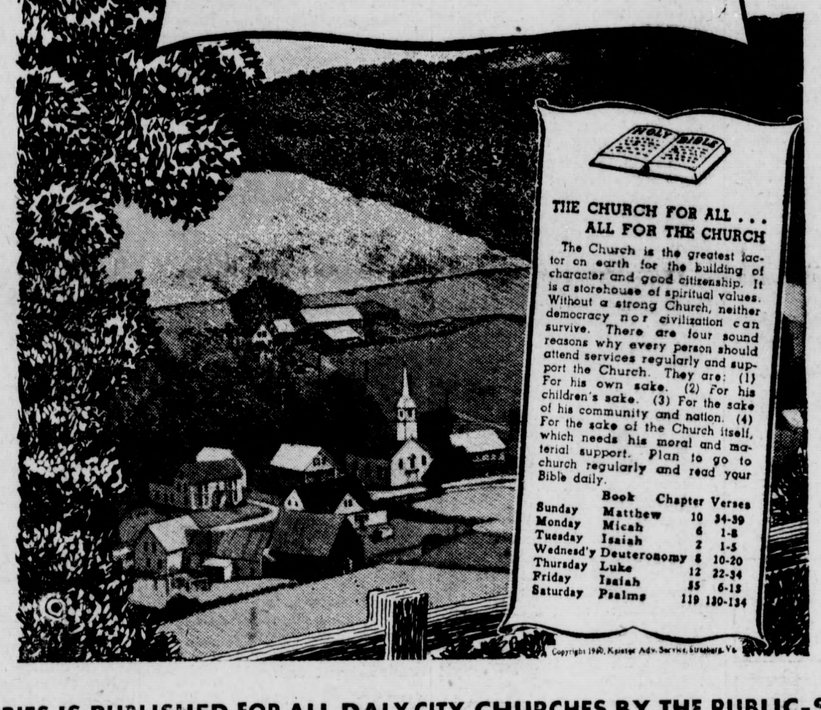
The traditions of America are inseparably linked with religion, and the Church has been the most powerful factor in our national life. Its faith has inspired our highest achievements.

The influence of religion has sanctified our homes and fostered in them the solid virtues and strong faith which have moulded our national character and shaped our course in world history.

Our splendid public school system is the outgrowth of religious zeal and the desire of the Church to spread enlightenment among the people. It has invoked blessings on those who train our youth.

The home, the school, and the Church—these are the great triumvirate whose faithful and tireless efforts have made America the most favored land on earth. They are the pillars of our strength, the foundation of our hope.

Let us cling to these elements of national strength—make our homes the abode of happiness; make our schools centers of light and knowledge; and make God our guide as we move into the untrod future.



THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

County Gains Noses Faster Than Neighbor

San Mateo county is rapidly becoming as large, population ways, as neighboring Santa Clara county.

Census reports show this county having a total population of 234,030, as compared to Santa Clara's 287,514.

In 1940 the figures were 111,782 and 174,949 respectively. This narrows down the 63,167 lead in 1940 to 53,484 now, a gain in this county's favor of 9,683.

San Mateo county's census gain stands at 109.36 per cent; Santa Clara county's at 64 per cent.

$28,546 License Fee Allocation Due Daly City

Daly City will soon receive $28,546 in motor vehicle license fees from the state, Thomas H. Kuchel, state controller, announced this week.

Also known as the "in lieu tax," the disbursement covers the period from December 1, 1949, through May 21 of this year. The allocations for San Mateo county and Daly City are based on the 1940 census, Kuchel said.

The per capita rate of allocation for city population amounted to $2.43.

San Mateo county cities will receive a total allocation of $373,964, or the total for the state of $33,602,711.

Colma will receive $861.81.

GI Bill Education Deadline July '51

The time of decision is closer than you think" for World War II veterans who have not yet used any or all of their entitlement to the education and training benefits of the GI Bill of Rights, according to Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer, San Mateo county.

Approximately one out of three eligible veterans has never taken advantage of this type of benefit, probably because he had no need for it, Granger said. On the other hand, only a very small proportion of G. I. Bill students have gone as far as permitted by their entitlement, which is based on the length of their wartime service.

For most veterans, the final deadline for pursuing studies or on-the-job training under the GI Bill is July 25, 1951. They must actually be pursuing a course or training program at that time if they wish to continue receiving subsistence allowance and other benefits. School vacation periods, of course, are not counted as interruptions.

"The time to decide finally whether or not to use your remaining GI education and training benefits is right now, not next year," Granger advises veterans. "Educational programs must be planned and arrangements made well in advance. The veteran who waits until next Spring to make up his mind to take more training may find he has lost out."

Information on available Veterans Adminsitration regulations governing education and training, as well as necessary application forms, are available at the Veterans Service Office, Courthouse, Redwood City.

Golden Gate Bridge Toll Cut To 40 Cents July 1

It now costs 10 cents less to cross the Golden Gate Bridge.

The first toll cut in 13 years came last Saturday as protesting commuters demanded their rates also be cut.

The new rate stands at 40 cents instead of the former 50.

Earlier, the bridge board of directors voted 9 to 3 against a commuter plea that the reductions be held up and the finance committee given an opportunity to work in commuter cuts.

FISH AND GAME NOTES

by Jimmy Fox

The Fourth of July holiday seems to have been a fine vacation time, but the fishing was way off par. Most of the fishing reports are of poor limited catches for both the salt and fresh water fishing.

From the high Sierras at Mohawk Inn near Greyeable. Ed Moore and Louis Bianchini phoned that the fishing was very poor, and the weather hottern 'n the hinges of Hadies. They fished the Gold Lake and Lake Basin country and had few fish to show for their efforts.

Delbert Ford, with his family, and Joe Marsh and wife were fishing and camping at the Jackson Creek campground near Laymens on the Feather River. The weather, as usual for this time of the year, was hot and the fish were not in a biting mood. May be that the fishermen were not as smart as the fish, for it was the first trout fishing trip for Del and Joe. They tell me that few fish were caught even by the experienced fishermen around that country.

Jimmy Brush returned from his two week rest in the Santa Cruz mountains and has only one thing to say about the fishing down there —"nuts."

The local fishin' hole, Lake Merced, has been given a workout since it opened to adult fishing on July 1. We don't think the seniors have done as well as the kids did, either. At least the reports aren't as numerous, and the stories not as exciting.

Early Birds

Early birds the opening morning were the Evans boys, Dick and Bill, and their Dad, W. J. Evans. They took dad out there to show him how to fool the fish in Marced and they did okey. By 9 a.m. they were back home with 3 nice rainbows, the reward of their efforts.

The fish were 13 and 14 inches in length, and weighed 1¼ and 1½ pounds each. Nice fish in any lake in the state. We didn't ask Mr. Evans if he caught any of the fish for we didn't want to embarrass him in front of the boys. There's a family who have been getting their share of backyard fishing ever since the lake was opened to fishing on May 1 of this year.

I believe I'll have the Evans boys take me out there and show me how it's done one of these evenings.

Nothing new and exciting on the bass and salmon fishing this week. Wind and choppy water were pretty much in evidence all week and as a result not many boats were out. The small flurry of fish at Mission Rock didn't last long and the boys are still wondering where the Bass went. Beach fishing has been touch and go right along. No bass have been taken that we know about and the perch have been few and far between.

Reminder

Well, the Div. of Fish and Game reminded us last week that the hunting season is about here. All it's license sellers were sent the new hunting licenses and the deer tags. You hunters are in for a surprise when you see the size of the new hunting license. It takes up a sheet of paper about 10 by 11 inches and includes shipping tages for doves, quail, and pheasants and a short word of advice on safe hunting, fire prevention and conservation. All that for $3, and the game, too, if you can find it, and then hit it.

Remember, the deer season will be here soon and you had better get the old deer rifle sighted in. Better to be well shot in and to know where you are shooting than to have a shooting accident just because you didn't know where it shoots. Practice on the rifle range pays off in the field with more good shots getting the game rather than crippling it. Besides that, the range offers lots of sport to you red-blooded Americans. It's lots of fun spending a day plinking at targets trying to outshoot your pals. Full knowledge of your gun's capabilities only comes with constant practice.

Sudden Leisure

In their meeting in San Francisco members of the American Medical Association warned against the sudden retirement of men who have been accustomed to working hard. They say it can produce bad physical and mental results which they call "withdrawal symptoms" similar to those affecting an addict who is suddenly deprived of a drug.

This suggests a point which might be well to consider. Many people look forward to the time when they can retire and be free of all business responsibilities. Many of them seem to think that they'll find great pleasure in just sitting around doing nothing. They frequently learn that complete inactivity, especially after a busy career, quickly becomes boring. Time hangs heavily on their hands and they feel lost and useless. If nothing is done to correct this feeling a physical and mental decline may be rapid.

The point is that motionless, purposeless existence is not natural. Everyone must have an interest of some kind whether it be a business, a hobby or some other form of activity. The person who expects to retire soon should make certain that he will have enough things of interest to do to keep himself occupied. If he has no interests outside of his business he'd better continue working until he has found something else — a hobby, for instance — to hold his attention. The purpose of retirement is not to provide time for stagnation.

Merry-Go-Round

In France where the life of a government is usually measured in days rather than years the old familiar pattern was again in evidence. Another change was made — the eleventh in six years. But the change was little more than a shuffle. Since there isn't an unlimited number of top flight politicians from which to chose, the faces, like the pattern, are always familiar. This time Bidault was out and (after a few days of headless floundering) Queuille was in.

Queuille is no stranger. He has held the top spot before — and many other spots in the meantime. But he's no run-of-the-mill premier. Until his government was unceremoniously kicked out of office not so long ago he had held that office longer at one time (well over a year, if memory serves us right) than any other postwar leader. It is to be hoped that he will be able to do as well this time since, if there is one thing France needs most at this critical period, it is stability. And the world needs a stable France.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Orlich Chucks Three-Hitter: Wins 11-3; Amazon A.C. Score With 14-1 Victory

By MILTON TROMBORG

Lashing out hits left and right, making sensational catches in the field, the Faculty team of the Daly City Recreation Softball League completely out played Mid City Market to win 11-3.

Mike Orlich started on the mound for the Faculty nine, and finished the game finding out that he had pitched a 3 hitter.

The Faculty nine just about cinched the game in the third inning, when Coach Glenn South tripled with the bases F.O.B. (full of batters.)

Other sluggers of the winners were Joe McGrath, who belted out 2 hits, along with Glenn South. Elmer Rose found his batting eye and found himself getting 2 hits at 3 times at plate.

In the field, Glenn South made two sensational catches as did Vic Consiglier on 3rd base.

The three Mid City batters to get hits off curve ball artist Mike Orlich, were Lloyd Selmi, a hard hit double, B. Gammini, a single, and Leo Giannecchini, a lining single to left field.

One of the main down falls of the Mid City nine, along with the power hitting of the Faculty, came in there pitcher, who walked 8 batters.

In this game on softball, a walk is just as good as a hit. Let a runner get on base, and he can almost steal home.

The Daly City Fire Department nine tried to put out the fire, but as they found out, the Amazon nine thought other wise, so went down in defeat, 14-1.

The Firemen by no means were dead at the plate, as was proven by L. Kennenly's double. B. Slata's triple, and T. Joyce's 2 hits, but when runners did get on base, their ability to push the runs across fell short each time.

The Firemen showed a lot of good ability on defensive play, but were a little rusty at the wrong times.

The top hitter for the Amazon nine was Alby who got 5 hits at 5 times at the plate.

Thrills were always high, as the Firemen tried to stretch doubles into triples and triples into home runs, but the Amazon outfielders cut them off each time.

No games were played on Tuesday night, July 4th. If you have not seen any of the teams in action, then you had better come down to the Jefferson Union high school field and seen them. Any Tuesday or Thursday night at 6:30.

WARNING SIGN

Marie's Place Downs Cleaners

By ANGELO CRAVIATTO

The newly formed Marie's Place nine Sunday turned back the Lobdell Cleaners 2 to 1 under the three hit pitching of Aldo Canepa.

Lobdell scored first, only to be tied by Vic Baher's long double to right center field, with one on. The winning run was walked in.

The play of the day was turned in by Gene Lorenzo. In the seventh with a Lobdell man on second the next man fired to Lorenzo's right. Lorenzo turned in an unassisted double play.

This Sunday Charles Donley Jr. will be on the mound to face the Twelve Mile House nine at Orange Park in South San Francisco. In the stand attending the game will be Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, sponsors of the Marie's Place nine.

Ralph's Take Two Out Of Three

Ralph's Cleaners took two out of three games they played last week in the bay area softball league.

All of the games were practice, but gave Ralph's an opportunity to get in training for the summer season which opens shortly.

Last Wednesday they defeated Ivan's of San Francisco by 3 to 2. This was followed by a loss on Thursday when they went down before the Napa Merchants 2 to 0.

But Ralph's had no trouble taking Pan American last Friday. Thanks to Johnny Lucier, who hit one of the longest home runs of the season, Ralph's ended up with the comfortable score of 11 to 3.

This Monday, as part of the South San Francisco night league, Ralph's will meet Letterman General Hospital in South City at 3:40 p.m.

Marlowe Joins Sheriff's Office

No longer a district attorney's investigator today is Frank Marlowe, who has held that post for the past seven years.

Marlowe is now a deputy sheriff. He was appointed by Sheriff James McGrath to fill one of two positions created by the board of supervisors for the 1950-51 fiscal year.

The Civil Service commission will choose a successor for Marlowe's position.

As investigator for the district attorney, Marlowe participated in every major crime investigation and trial in the county since his appointment. His most recent case was the Breslauer murder in Daly City.

He will be a plain clothes investigator in the sheriff's office.

Sarto's Boys Finish Holiday In Win Column

Playing a round of four games last week, Sarto A. C. and Sarto's managed to hold a top position in their respective leagues.

The first game was Friday night when Sarto's downed the Herch's Braves by the close score of 2 to 1. They carried through on Sunday defeating the same team by 8 to 7. This puts them in the top column of the Funston night league, with a total of three wins and one loss.

The Sarto A. C. played a memorable game last Sunday when they walked over the Richmond A. C. by the comfortable score of 23 to 2. The Richmond lads used four pitchers, but for every pitcher they committed as many errors, so consequently the Sarto boys had no difficulty at all in chalking up a win.

However, the Sarto A. C. lost some face July 4, when in a holiday game they dropped a victory through errors to the Junior Seals. Final score in this game was 2 to 4 in favor of the Seals.

This Sunday the Sarto A. C. will play an unamed team at Marchbanks at 2 p.m. Also, the Sarto's will take on the Mission Kiwanis at 2 p.m. at the Bic Rec Field.

$200,000 Drive-In For Burlingame

The Burlingame planning commission this week considered an application for construction of a $200,000 drive-in on the Mills estate, just south of Millbrae avenue.

The theatre would be patterned after the El Rancho in Colma.

Commissioners expressed an opinion that the drive-in might constitute a traffic hazard.

However, spokesmen for the theatre asserted it would be used only when other traffic is relatively light.

Plans call for one of the most modern drive-in theatres in the state, with space for from 800 to 850 cars.

Considering construction is a San Francisco drive-in theatre concern with theatres in most of the western states.

Also, at the Burlingame commission meeting plans for a new million-dollar 128 room hotel north of Broadway and between the old Bayshore highway and the freeway, were approved.

Scout Stamp On Sale At DC Post Office

A new three-cent stamp commemorating the current national Boy Scout encampment at Valley Forge was issued here Monday.

The stamp, light brown in color, depicts three scouts at the historic shrine. Engraved are the words, "On My Honor I Will Do My Best, Boy Scouts of America."

The stamps are now available at your Daly City post office.

Cereghino Tops All At Baseball School Monday

By MILTON TROMBORG

Keeping up with his past reputation as a hurler, big Ed Cereghino, Daly City's gift to the baseball world, again had the eyes of all at the Examiner Baseball school.

Last Monday afternoon at Marchbanks park, Cereghino, in four innings on the mound, struck out 7 out of 13 men. He gave up 2 hits, both singles, while walking none.

The Examiner school well remembers Big Ed, for at the age of 13, Cereghino showed top form as a pitcher.

Ever since that day 3 years ago, Ed has always been a stand out on the mound at the Examiner Baseball school.

This could well be the year for Ed. He has played good ball all season, proving this by chucking the Jefferson high Indians to the PAL championship.

Cereghino's ability to pitch seems to lie in his control and his ability to throw curves. His fast ball by no means is slow as he proved this last Monday.

The starting line up for the North team has not been given yet and will not until next week, but you can be sure that the name Ed Cereghino will appear on the list.

Cereghino by no means was the only Daly City stand out at the Examiner School last Monday. Four other All PAL players tried out and three of them really showed good ability.

First of the three was Catcher Alex Findlay. Findlay, who was voted the top catcher in the PAL, again had all eyes on him as he caught behind the plate. It is not known yet, but Findlay's name just might appear on the starting line up for the game July 23.

Another Daly City boy who deserves a lot of credit for his efforts, is six foot one inch Leo Giannecchini. Giannecchini was also a member of the Jeff nine when they took the PAL title a month ago.

Having it pretty rough at the plate in PAL play, did not matter to Leo much as he pounded out two hits, a single and a double.

In the field, Leo made 2 sharp catches, thus proving that he has ability on both offense and defense.

Little Don Lunghi, Jefferson High player of the year, also proved a strong contender for a starting position. Don, at two times at the plate, hit the ball well but never got a hit. His ability came in the field, as he tagged every ball that was hit to the field.

All remember Henry Morgan, who saw the last game between Jeff and Palo Alto. It was Morgan who started a 5th inning rally by lacing a fast ball for a 350 foot home run, thus putting the Indians back in the ball game.

Morgan last week found things just a little different. Taking into consideration that he not played too much ball, since then, Morgan struck out and flied out to hold down his chances to play in the Examiner All Star game.

All in all, Daly City did well, and if things go right, 3 Daly City lads will be playing in the Examiner All Star Game July 23, which will be held at Seals Stadium. Next week the starting line ups will be given, so watch this paper.

Face Lifting Job For Hatchery

A quarter of-a-million dollar face lifting job on the State's oldest fish hatchery begins this month and will make possible an increase in the amount of catchable-sized trout planted in northern California waters, says the Division of Fish and Game.

Historic Mt. Shasta hatchery, in continuous operation since 1888, is the benefactor of an allotment of $240,000 from the Wildlife Conservation Board's nine-million dollar share of State horse racing receipts.

State Hatchery Chief Earl Lietritz announced that the complete remodeling job will include construction of 16 specially-designed raceway rearing ponds, an additional hatchery building, and a food preparation room. New refrigeration equipment will also be added.

In its past role as the world's largest fish hatchery, the Mt. Shasta installation at one time provided trout for planting in all sections of California.

Sulfur is used as a fungicide in many agricultural sprays and dusts.

PADDLE TENNIS BOUT

Tournament Scheduled This Friday At Jefferson High School Courts

By Erle Johnson

The Jefferson High School tennis courts will be the scene of the Daly City Paddle Tennis championships this Friday, July 7.

All those interested in viewing the games, or for the benefit of those participating, the first sets will start at 1:30 p.m. Erle Johnson, supervisor of recreation, will be the chairman of the tournament; so if there are any questions about the Paddle Tennis Tournament, or any other thing connected to this summer's recreation program, he may be reached at the city hall.

There will be three age groups partcipating in this tournament. The first group ranges from eleven years and under, the second group from twelve to fourteen and the third group any age above sixteen.

These groups will be separated as for boys and girls.

Softball

Monday evening the teen-age softball league got underway at the high school. The Lincoln Playground team defeated the Colma Boys Club team 9-2.

Bill Cummings pitched for the winners and also banged out a home run to aid in his team's win.

Next Monday, July 10, there will be two games played. The Marchbanks Team will play Colma and the Lincoln team will play the high school team. These games will start at 7 p.m.

Game Room

The Game Room at the high school has been a gay spot for all age groups this summer. Every Monday morning there is a free movie given. There is just about everything imaginable available in the Game Room. Presently the pool table seems to be the most popular sport.

Thanks to Ken Bassler of the Daly City Billiard Parlor on Mission street, the kids now have four nice pool cues to play pool with.

Ping-pong is the next popular game with cards and various quiet games filling the program.

Mary Falbo has an excellent program started in folk dancing for those interested. Mary has all of the latest numbers and dances so her program is very popular.

Mike Orlich has a program set up for various activities outside of the game room, but the athletic supplies need for these games may be found in the game room.

Game Commission Files Suit

The California Fish and Game Commission has filed suit in the Siskiyou Count Superior Court asking abatement of the alleged public nuisance caused by operation of the California-Oregon Power Company dam on the Klamath river.

Charging "great and irreparable damage" to Klammath river fish-life, the suit was served by Deputy Attorney General Ralph W. Scott, Commission representative. It also asked that the power company be perpetually restrained from its present operational procedure on the basis of public safety.

Scott stated that betwen May, 1940 and October, 1949, a total of 14 persons lost their lives on the river below the dam—assertedly as a result of fluctuations caused by the COPCO dam operation. He charged that the wave fronts created by release of water from the part-time hydro-electric power station "endanger and impair public safety and kill substantial numbers of trout and salmon."

A 75-mile section of the Klamath river downstream from the COPCO dam near Yreka is affected, the suit contends. Sream fected, the suit contends. Stream from approximately 200 second feet to 3,000 second feet.

Mallards Active In Migration

Mallards yielded the highest rate of return of all ducks banded by the Division of Fish and Game at Tulare Lake between 1938 and 1945, according to information published in the latest "California Fish and Game Quarterly."

Three pintails were recovered eight years after banding. Most returns occurred during the year of banding or the following year. While ducks of other species banded at Tulare Lake were recovered from northern points of Alaska and Canada, Labrador, remote spots of Mexico, and most sections of the United States, no mallards or shovellers were returned from outside California.

In cooperation with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the State agency bands waterfowl in an effort to learn more about migrations, life span, and other biological habits.

Author Donald D. McLean of the Bureau of Game Conservation reported some conclusions from the 12-year banding program include:

The south end of the San Joaquin Valley appears to be a terminal area of a migration route;

The route does not extend into southern California or into Mexico;

The winter population of ducks in the San Joaquin Valley is, at least in part, separate from the Sacramento Valley population.

There was found to be a considerable movement of waterfowl from Tulare Lake to the Suisun marches, the Delta region and the north San Joaquin Valley waterfowl areas.

An annual epidemic of botulism among ducks of the Tulare Lake Basin affected a larger percentage of birds each year from 1938 until 1941 and then dropped off to a very low figure in 1944. The disease had almost disappeared by 1945.

Of the 14,740 ducks picked up, 9,953 were banded and 1,169 eventually were returned. Species banded were: fulvous tree ducks, mallards, cinnamon teals, blue-winged teals, green-winged teals, pintails, baldpates, gadwalls, shovellers, redheads and ruddys.

More Postage Now For Food Parcels

Cost of mailing foreign food parcels is now 14 cents a pound, the post office department said today.

The new rate became effective early this week, and will affect parcels going to Germany, France, Great Britain, Northern Ireland and the Netherlands.

With the discontinued Economic Co-operation Administration subsidy it was necessary to up rates, the department said.

However, the change in rates does not apply to parcels going to Italy or Greece.

Eggers Shooting For Trophy Friday

San Jose's young sensational motorcycle rider Kenneth Eggers will be shooting for another trophy Friday night at Belmont Stadium when more than 40 of California's top speedsters hit the quarter-mile oval in a 10-event racing program.

Eggers, 21-year-old machinist, grabbed the checkered flag four times last month and took home as many trophies. Most notable of his recent triumphs was his distance win in the national 10-mile amateur race two weeks ago.

Tomorrow night young Eggers will be out to prove himself a consistent winner along with veteran campaigners Charlies West, Shorty Thompkins and Dick McAfee. Each of these top performers drives a cool deliberate race that is tough to beat.

The Speedway's racing program gets underway at 7 p.m. with time trials.

Bob Silvestri Enters Final Golf Rounds

Bob Silvestri, Daly City's golfing ace, was going into the final rounds of the National Public Links Golf Tournament today with three victories to his credit.

At the Louisville, Kentucky, tournament, Silvestri downed Mike Balega, Minneapolis, 2 and 1 in the third round Tuesday, and on Monday took Bob Haag, Bueche,l Kentucky, 3 and 1.

Should Silvestri come out in the finals he will be up against Ken Towns, San Francisco's defending champion.

Third Oil Well Sunk In SM County

This week operations began on the third wildcat oil well in San Mateo county.

The Continental Oil company sunk the well about 10 miles southwest of Redwood City. This operation is due to bring in oil, if any, by July 15.

Named Biachi No. 1, the well is on the Sierra Morena anticline, where the company has leased 9,000 acres of land.

TIRE VALVE CAPS

Flat tires and damage resulting from air losses frequently result from failure to use air-sealing tire valve caps, according to the California State Automobile Association.

ANGLING ANGLES by old Hi

Howdy, fishermen! Seems mighty good to meet you fellers again. You'll recall that last spring and summer we got together here each week to talk over the ins and outs of fishin'. We caught some big trout, bass, pike and all sorts of other game and pan fish, and had a lot of fun.

Old Hi received a stack of letters from you rod and reelers all over the country, saying you like these little confabs, had picked up a few ideas and got some of your questions answered. Glad to have heard that, and hope many more of you will drop me a line this year.

Yep, if there's a problem puzzling you, just cast it my way and I'll try to untangle the backlash. Or if there are certain topics you'd like some dope about, let me know and they'll be given "first aid" treatment in this column — or by personal reply if you'll enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Send your requests to Old Hi, in care of this newspaper.

So we're off to another net-filled season, and now is the right time to get set for it. This means we've got some important work to do before hitting the lakes and streams to tease the tackle busters. How about your rods, reels, lines, and lures? Are they in good condition to survive rough battles with hefty fish in the coming weeks or are they worn and damaged from last year's hard usage?

Have you enough hooks, leaders, sinkers, lines, flies, plugs, and similar items? Do you need a creel, tackle kit, automatic fly reel, glass bait casting rod, spinning rod, minnow pail, bait box, landing net or aluminum fly box?

Dig your tackle out of the cl winter storage place and go carefully this month. Perhaps split-bamboo fly rod needs new ings, or the guides may be wo have to be replaced. Don't wai the trout season opens to tinke your tackle, or the first trip m ruined by faulty gear or the l some necessary equipment.

Take stock now not only o your outfit shapes up for the ac will soon undergo, but also of additional things you'll want. D at the local sporting goods stor have a look at the latest tackle tions on hand. There are new rods, improved reels, "heat-stret lines and tested lures for g sport and better catches.

Then, for facts on how, when when to use this tackle, send a card request to me, Old Hi, in c this newspaper for your free co the booklet "Fishing For The lions."

County Defense Plans Studied

Preparing for a possible war, all cities in San Mateo county will operate under a co-ordinated plan of civilian defense.

At a recent meeting of city officials it was decided to await the signal from Gov. Warren before making any wide departure in the present setup for civilian defense, then to put in a plan which would co-ordinate all activities in the county.

Various cities, including this community, are now maintaining skeleton organizations under the 1948 disaster act. Meanwhile, heads of these organizations will gradually build up personnel.

Alpine County was organized in 1864.

McArthur Injured In Auto Wreck

Recovering from serious injuries he suffered in an accident recently is Alex McArthur, 33, well-known Daly City real-estate man.

McArthur suffered back, leg, and chest injuries when a car he was driving collided with a milk truck on Junipero Serra just north of Daly City. The accident occurred at 9:30 a.m. June 23.

The Daly City man, who resides at 622 San Diego, is now a patient at St. Joseph's hospital.

New $1,000,000 Burlingame Hotel

Work began Wednesday on a new 128 room, $1,000,000 hotel for Burlingame.

To be built by the R. P. Etienne Properties Inc., the hotel will be located between the old Bayshore highway and the new Bayshore freeway, just north of Broadway.

Completion of the hotel is scheduled for January or February, 1951.

Plans call for 128 rooms, and parking for 203 cars, as well as a cocktail lounge, swimming pool, dining room, banquet hall and offices. Design calls for three units of one and two story ranch-type architecture.

Stokely - Van Camp Announce Changes

H. F. Krimendahl, President of Stokely-Van Camp, Inc., announces the following personnel promotions covering the company's West Coast operations.

William H. Foster will be in charge of and direct Stokely and Van Camp canning operations on the West Coast. Before joining Stokely-Van Camp in 1947, he was President of Foster & Wood Canning Co., Lodi, California. He has served as a Director of the National Canners Association and is most active and well known in the food industry.

R. F. Williams will direct Honor Brand frozen food operations. He joined Stokely-Van Camp in 1936 at the time of the Santa Cruz Packing Company merger, and has served as Assistant to the General Manager of the West Coast operations. Williams has been active in the Canners League of California and the Cling Peach Association, and is well known in the food trade.

Miss Stilleson Retains Post

Miss Mura Stilleson, deputy county clerk and superior court clerk, today retains her position on the San Mateo Count Employes' Retirement association.

She defeated her rival, George Harris, for the position last week. Courthouse returns show Miss Stilleson received 229 votes and Harris got 128.

A veteran of county service, Miss Stilleson already has served six years on the retirement board, and her new term is for three years.

The five-man board will be reorganized on July 20. Other members are John Sulivan, Claude Hirschey, Supervisor William Werder and County Treasurer A. H. Sagehorn.

There were 7,882 marriage licenses issued in San Francisco in 1949.

SF Merges Park, Recreation Depts.

An experiment in city government was undertaken this week with the consolidation of San Francisco's Recreation and Park Departments and announcement by Mayor E. Robinson that Harvey E. Teller, former Park Commission president, would head the new department as General Manager.

The appointment of Teller was confirmed by the merged commission which was formally sworn into office last week by Superior Judge William F. Traverso. Members are Louis Sutter, Peter Bercut, Michael J. Buckley, Mrs. Sigmund Stern, Mrs. Henry Dippel, Fred D. Parr and the Rev. Eugene J. Shea.

Sutter who headed the former Recreation Commission, was named president of the new commission with Parr as vice president.

First official action of Teller was to announce the reappointments of Julius Girod; park superintendent; Miss Josephine Randall, superintendent of recreation; Cary Baldwin, director of the zoo.

William Simons, former Park Commission Secretary, was appointed executive secretary to the general manager, and Edward McDevitt, former recreation commission secretary, continues on as secretary to the new Commission.

Consolidation of the two departments was authorized in the elec- last last November.

Eight Postal Employes Retire

The last day of work following a total of over 280 years of work was a happy one for eight veteran postal employees today.

In ceremonies held in the various sections of the San Francisco Post Office Postmaster John F. Fixa congratulated the employees and presented gifts given by their co-workers. Postmaster Fixa in commenting on the loyal and faithful service of all these employees offered his personal wishes and commended each employee for their part in the growth and service of the San Francisco Post Office.

The honored employees are: Harry L. Berkhout, clerk, 2727 Yorba; May E. Vavanagh, foreman, 240 Magellan; George H. Dunkum, clerk, 424 Ellis; Lawrence Mygard, clerk, 30 32nd Ave.; Syvester A. Muzio, carrier, 27 Mercury; William Stoll, driver-mechanic, 45 Lippard; Mary Z. O'Connor, clerk, 1235 Sloat; Louis J. Moriarty, carrier, 220 27th St.

Schools Take Half Of Taxes

Approximately one-half of San Mateo property taxes go to the support of schools, the California Taxpayers' Association said today.

Of the total property tax levy in the county for 1949-50, 49 per cent was used for school support. This compares with 42 per cent for 1941-42, and 40 per cent for 1939-40.

Property tax for schools in the county totalled $7,800,318 for 1949-50, out of a total levy against property of $15,920,513.

Property taxes for 1944-45 amounted to $5,728,846, of which $2,410,630 went to schools.

YOU CAN'T KNOW

At hill crests and on blind curves, keep particularly alert, urges the California State Automobile Association. You don't know what may be on the road just over the crest or around the curve, and you should be prepared for any emergency.

FUEL LINE LEAKS

Automobile fuel lines and fuel pumps should be examined occasionally for leaks, advises the California State Automobile Association. Fuel leaks can usually be detected more easily with the motor running.

Streets Are Safe In San Francisco

San Francisco is one of the nation's safest cities for both pedestrian and drivers, and the city has just received two awards to prove it.

The National Safety Council's award was in recognition of the city's 1949 record among cities of 750,000 to 1,000,000 population. San Francisco took first place among competing cities for the sharp reduction of pedestrian fatalities, from 56 in 1948 to 35 in 1949, and traffic accident death reduction from 88 in 1948 to 53 in 1949.

Grand and first place awards by the American Automobile Assn. were presented to San Francisco in the 11th annual nationwide Pedestrian Protection Contest, sponsored in this area by the California State Automobile Association.

AIR CLEANER

A periodic check of your automobile's air cleaner by a competent mechanic is advised by the California State Automobile Association. Dirt and dust, if allowed to accumulate, may result in hard starting and poor gasoline economy.

For a time during 1861, Montgomery, Alabama, was the Confederate capital.

ANGLING ANGLES
by old Hi

In early spring the thoughts of most anglers across the country center on trout fishing. Nearby lowland or mountain streams and ponds may contain brook, brown, rainbow, cutthroat, steelhead or Dolly Varden trout, and in any case these will give you tops in sport.

At the outset, with the water usually high, swift, cold and discolored, you'll find the trout staying close to the bottom. This means that most of them will be taken on live baits, although in some instances streamer and bucktail flies worked close to the bottom will be effective.

Trout are fond of various insects, worms and grubs, crawfish, grasshoppers, tiny minnows, bees, and similar natural foods. For the most part, two of the smaller, more lively garden worms are better to use than one large nightcrawler, unless only a part of the latter is strung on the snelled hook. If trying a small minnow, pass the hook through its mouth, out one gill-cover and impale it in the skin at the base of the tail or back of the dorsal fin — so the minnow is slightly curved and will twirl enticingly in the current.

For this live bait fishing, and for use in fly casting when desired, you can use the new all-purpose combination four-piece tonkin bamboo rod with the reversible hand grip with inner ferrules. One tip section is for live bait fishing and the other for fly casting. Thus in one rod you can enjoy the widest sport at no extra cost.

With this rod you can make the following combinations: two fly rods, eight and one-half feet in length and six and one-half feet in length; one bait rod eight and one-half feet long; light casting rod six and one-half feet in length; and two casting or trolling rods; one five and one-half feet in length and one three feet in length.

There is also a new sportsman's rod in six sections, designed so it can be carried in a pack basket on camping trips, or in a large game pocket when hiking through the woods. This is a very useful rod for the mountain stream angler. When assembled it is eight and one-quarter feet long, and weighs about six and one-half ounces. It is constructed from flame finish tonkin bamboo, the toughest and longest lasting cane.

With these rods you would want an upright model automatic fly reel for quick and easy retrieve of line. Besides streamer and bucktail flies, light nickel spinners or fly spinners should also be tried.

You'll find many useful tips on catching trout in Old Hi's 148-page booklet "Fishing For The Millions" and you may have a free copy by sending a penny postcard request to me in care of this newspaper. At the same time, if you're interested in deep sea and ocean shoreline angling ask for your free copy of "Salt Water Sports Fishing."

S.M. County Farms Yield $16,113,000

Total value of agricultural products produced in San Mateo county during 1949 totaled $16,113,000—fifth among bay area counties—the Bay Area Council said today.

Greatest agricultural income was reported by Sonoma county, followed closely by Santa Clara. Alameda county was third and Solano county fourth. Trailing San Mateo county were Contra Costa, Marin and Napa counties.

Livestock and poultry products accounted for 51 per cent of the bay area's total agricultural income of $241,288,000, while fruit and nut crops were valued at $42,885,000 and vegetable crops at $33,461,000.

Burglar Hits Same Home Several Times—Gets $10

Out $10 today because she believed a burglar never struck more than three times in the same place is Mrs. Walter Lee, 429 Santa Barbara.

Mrs. Lee told officers that last Thursday afternoon she returned home to find her front door open, and a key protruding from the lock. Inside, she found that an unidentified thief had removed $10 from a drawer, police report.

This was "one of several burglaries" over the past few months, Mrs. Lee told officers. However, Thursday's theft was the only one where the burglar bothered to take anything.

Police advised Mrs. Lee to report any future burglaries, and to change the lock on her front door.

Summer Schedule Listed For S.M. County Museum

The summer schedule of the San Mateo County Historical Society's Museum was announced today by Dr. Frank M. Stanger, executive Secretary.

The exhibits will be on display to the public from 2-5 p.m., Monday through Friday, but will be closed next Monday and on the Fourth of July. Its location is on the San Mateo Junior College campus, on the ground floor of the Baldwin Avenue Building, San Mateo.

The special centennial displays, sponsored by the California Centennials Commission are continuing, Dr. Stanger said, and several items have been added. These include a case of material loaned to the museum of manuscripts which belonged to Gen. John C. Fremont and family. Pictured here is the Sanchez Adobe, now county owned, where Fremont once visited.

Another display shows two beautifully bound illustrated books of pressed flowers, a souvenir of a world's tour in 1868 made by William C. Ralston's mother. They were presented by Mrs. Mollie Jones of San Carlos.

A dressed figure showing a black and white lace gown of the Empire style, is to be viewed in the Victorian room of the museum. This gown is the property of the Peninsula Little Theater and was donated by Mrs. Virginia Wiedeman. A puff sleeve iron and a small travelling iron of the '80s has been given the museum by Mrs. F. W. Heckman.

The use of the museum as "something to see" and also as a source for useful information is growing daily, Dr. Stanger said. Visitors to the museum in the past year have numbered around 2200 persons, he reported. These include 26 troops of scouts and brownies, 10 school classes, and 10 adpult club groups. Among the many casual visitors have been guests from all parts of the world.

BARRACUDA TAKEN

Good catches of large barracuda have been taken during the past week by sport fishing boats working off the coast of Los Angeles county, according to the National Automobile Club. Sport fishing generally has been improving in this area.

TROUT ANGLING GOOD IN FRESNO COUNTY

Trout anglers have been enjoying some first-rate sport during the past week at the higher elevations in Fresno County, reports the National Automobile Club. They have had especially good sport in the Kings Canyon area and at the headwaters of the North Fork of the Kings River.

DC Garden Club To Meet July 11

Members of the Daly City Garden club will hold their next meeting, Tuesday evening, July 11.

The meeting is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Yohn, 292 Hillside boulevard.

Guests speaker will be Everett Farwell Jr., owner of Oak Knoll Garden center in Oakland and San Mateo. His subject will be "Rhododendrons, Their Care and Culture."

Anyone interested in attending the meeting may do so by contacting Mrs. Howard Miquel, membership chairman, at PLaza 5-5888.

Gravediggers Dispute Settled

Graves were still being dug in Colma today, folowing a compromise last Saturday between cemetery workers and management.

The workers have accepted the proposal that provides for one day a week layoff, if necessary, during wet weather.

However, talks will continue until such time as final settlement is reached, George Johns, secretary of the AFL Central Labor Council said.

OLD BULBS GOOD GUIDES

When a headlight bulb, taillight bulb, dashlight bulb or any other kind of bulb burns out, the careful motorist will not throw it away the instant it is removed from its socket, declares the National Automobile Club. Before doing so he will notice its specifications so that the one used in replacement is of exactly the same power. Car manufacturers are specific in stating just what size and type of bulb shall be used. Since they have arrived at their decisions as a result of thorough study, the motorist would do well to abide by their directions.

Navy Offers Education

The Navy assures qualified high school graduates of a course in one of its many vocational schools upon completion of their basic Recruit Training.

Each graduate who qualifies may have an opportunity to serve in Surface, Air or Submarine Branch.

In addition to basic submarine and airman schools the following Navy training schools are available: electronics technician, fire control technician, communication technician, aviation photographer's mate, electrician's mate, aviation ordnance, aviation boatswain's mate, aviation storekeeper, aviation electrician's mate, aerographer's mate, parachute rigger, machinist's mate, photographer's mate, sonar operator, dental technician, hospital corps, personnelman, aviation machinist's mate, storekeeper, air controlman, tradevman, yeoman,, engineman, radioman, journalist, radarman, mineman, and teleman.

Non-high school graduates are also eligible to attend any of the above training schols. However, they are selected for the schools on a competitive basis at the Navy Training Center, San Diego, as a result of the marks which they make on a second classification test.

Young men between 17 and under 31 years of age are asked to stop in at the local Navy Recruiting Station and inquire about the unlimited opportunities the Navy has to offer. Remember—you don't need experience. If you show the right qualifications, the Navy has a place for you in one of its many vocational schools available today.

Complete information can be obtained by visiting the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station, post office building, San Mateo, Phone DI 4-2781.

Did World War III Start On June 24?

By Ridgely Cummings

There are a lot of pleasant things I'd like to write about but the natural subject for an essay this week is Korea, for what took place on June 24th may well be the beginning of World War III.

By the time this sees print there will have been reams of interpretative copy before the reading public. But as I write this, the day after the invasion of Southern Korea by Northern Korea, the big question hasn't been answered yet.

Is this the start of another world holocaust? Time, place and economic conditions point that way.

Jobs are growing scarce and the help-wanted columns feature openings for salesmen, which indicates a buyers' market. When we're busy dumping tons of steel on political enemies, all available workers are producing and we don't have any spare men to ring doorbells and harass housewives.

Most recent wars have begun in early summer when the weather is favorable for the movement of large masses of men. Sometimes they are postponed until late summer, after the crops have been harvested.

The place of origin is in the tradition of other modern world conflicts. The trend is for fighting to start in out-of-the-way corners where living conditions are relatively primitive and then spread to the centers of western civilization (a string of exclamation marks should go after the word civilization).

Our Latitude

Since the two major world powers today are the U.S. and the U.S.S.R., it is logical that the break should come at a point of friction and tension, in this case the 38th parallel. This is the same parallel of latitude that runs a little north of San Rafael and a little south of Santa Rosa. San Francisco is at 37 degrees, 46 minutes north latitude.

The 38th parallel cuts Korea approximately in half. Toward the end of the war, after Russia jumped in at the last moment against Japan, when it became apparent the U. S. had won, this imaginary line was agreed upon as the dividing mark for American and Soviet occupation forces.

It hardened into a permanent border. Russian and American occupation troops were pulled out over a year ago, but the southern part remained under U. S. domination and the northern part under Russian control.

The part which the Communists attacked is called the Republic of Korea, and the northern area, according to a fairly recent atlas which I have just consulted, is named the Korean People's Republic.

All this I am digging out myself, and as I ruffle the pages of geographies, I entertain two thoughts: 1) it reminds me of eight or nine years ago when everyone who read the newspapers and magazines became an expert on cartography; and 2) it seems sort of a waste of effort, for if I waited until Time and Newsweek came out I would find all this information collected and condensed by experts, which I am not.

Motive Not Explained

Why the Northern Koreans want to come down and attack the Southern Koreans is something that has not been explained yet in these early days of the turmoil. As a matter of fact the Russian News Agency, Tass, has the story reversed and says it happened the other way around, with U. S. dominated soldiers attacking the so-called People's government.

We can place as much credence in this report from Moscow as we did in the official Soviet version of the Russian invasion of Finland, which had the little Finn army attacking the Communist Goliath.

Some of my acquaintainces, who are well-informed on foreign affairs, spent the weekend glued to the radio, looking up only to shush the children and discuss hideaways from atomic bombs. I couldn't take the news quite so seriously.

Optimistically, I'm inclined to doubt that this is the start of World War III because psychologically the world isn't ready yet for another blood bath.

A new generation hasn't quite grown up and those of us who were in the last fracas haven't reached the comfortable age where we can wax righteously indignant, secure in the knowledge that other and younger men will have to do the fighting.

If it comes, brother, we're stuck.

I'm strongly in favor of putting the diplomats in the first assault waves. I'd like to throw Dean Acheson and Winnie Churchill against Joe Stalin and let John Foster Dulles lower the boom on Vishinsky. That would include me out.

Personal Property 15% County Taxes

Personal property and money make up 15 per cent of the total San Mateo county taxable property, the California Taxpayers' association reported today.

Total value of personal property in this county is $32,793,614 for 1940-50, out of a total value of taxable property in the county of $214,141,281.

For 1941-42, personal property amounted to nine per cent of the total taxable valuation of the county, while taxable personal property was assessed at $11,846,345 out of a total taxable valuation of $124,978,000, the report stated.

The report was made in opposition to the initiative to exempt personal property from taxation in California.

There was a wharf on the site of San Francisco's Ferry Building as early as 1850.

Occurences of lead are widespread in California, with production reported from 32 counties.

Vienna Art Exhibit Opens At deYoung Museum Saturday; Here During Summer

Opening at the San Francisco M. H. deYoung memorial museum in Golden Gate park Saturday, July 8, will be the famed Vienna Art treasures show.

The exhibit, on loan from the Austrian government, will be here until October 1.

The incredible group of 132 paintings and more than 170 examples of decorative arts including tapestries, arms and armor, goldsmith's work, drew some 875,000 visitors to the National gallery in Washington.

The collection, chiefly assembled by members of the Hapsburg family during their seven centuries' rule as emperors, kings and princes throughout Europe, has been said to be the most important show to come to the United States and appraisals have been offered ranging from $40,000,000 to $80,000,000.

Included in the exhibition are 12 paintings by Titian, eight by Ruebens, five court portraits by Valazquez. Other great names represented are Giogione, Correggio, Vermerr, Veronese, Van Dyck, Hals, and many others.

The Benvenuto Cellini salt cellar, the only large piece of gold work known to be entirely of his making, is an ornate piece about 10 by 13 inches. Among the tapestries are some of the finest hangings woven in Brussels in the sixteenth century.

Arms and armor range from the late fifteenth century through the late seventeenth and include field armor from Maximilian I. The cradle made for the king of Rome, son of Napoleon and Marie Louise, is of pearl with a small canopy at the head and a small gold imperial eagle at the foot.

During this exhibition the museum will be open from 10 o'clock until 5 o'clock every day.

SLOW AT CORNERS

Speeding around corners saves virtually no time, but it greatly increases the risk of an accident, warns the California State Automobile Association. Always slow down for turns and intersections.

Fourteen hours of entertainment for 50 cents, including Federal tax, will be provided by the California State Fair, August 31 through September 10.

Exhibitors at the California State Fair, August 31 through September 10, will compete for 14,409 ribbons, in addition to other awards.

Berkeley Summer Enrollment 8,846

First summer session enrollment on the Berkeley campus of the Universtiy of California shows a total of 8,846 students.

The was the figure at the beginning of the second week of classes, as reported by Registrar Thomas B. Steel.

Of this total 3,430 were veterans. A continued overbalance of male students was noted with 6,397 men as compared to 2,449 women.

Registration for a comparable period last year showed a total of 9,870 students on the Berkeley campus. Late registration brought the final enrollment figure to 10,094 students for the first summer session. Of this total, 4,741 were veterans. It is expected that late registration this year will bring the 1950 enrollments close to the 10,000 mark.

The first summer session on the Berkeley campus will end on July 29. The second session will begin on July 31 and extend through September 9. Persons interested in attending the second session should file applications and vaccination certificates with the Summer Sessions Office by July 11.

The Bishop district, Inyo County, is one of the few areas in the world where scheelite occurs in commercial quantities.

Contra Cost County is one of the original 27 counties of the State.

Governor Opens Ticket Drive

San Francisco's Civic Auditorium will be the scene of the first in a nationwide series of Booker T. Washington Memorial benefit entertainments on Friday and Saturday evenings, June 16 and 17, and Governor Earl Warren assured himself and his family of front row seats for the all-star variety show with his purchase of the first four tickets this week. Andrew F. Jackson, West Coast director of the Booker T. Washington Birthplace Memorial, is shown delivering the tickets to the California chief executive, to initiate the sales campaign in the Bay Area. Proceeds from the two nights of star-studded Hollywood and New York entertainment will go directly to the support of the Booker Washington Industrial Training Center and Better Workers' Institutes. Every ticket purchaser will receive a 1950 San Francisco minted Memorial Half Dollar at the Crane Box Office, 245 Powell Street, San Francisco.

Orchid King and Movie Queen Relax With Iced Tea

Orchid King Graham W. Dible and lovely actress Nancy Kelly know the delightful way to relieve that "under pressure" feeling—iced tea with lunch. The orchids which Mr. Dible presented to Nancy at a Beverly Hills club luncheon for the movie colony are called Princess Alohas. Ten million of these orchids, which are flown in from Hawaii, are sold in America every year. Iced Tea Week is July 7th to 15th.
